Mt. Morris Woman Killed in Truck-Auto Crash at Seward

Mrs. Fred Parks Dies Instantly

Husband Injured When Auto Strikes Truck at Junction

SEWARD — (Special) — A Mt. Morris woman was killed instantly and her husband seriously injured today when their car collided with a loaded milk truck at an intersection three miles east of Seward.

The dead woman is Mrs. Fred Parks, 64.

Her husband, 65, was reported in serious condition in Rockford Memorial hospital. Doctors reported the full extent of his injuries had not been determined.

The truck driver, Earl M. Rice, 24, Rt. 1, Winnebago, was not seriously injured. He was examined and treated for lacerations and later released from the hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Art Weston and John Stewart of the Winnebago county sheriff's office investigated.

Explains Incident

Weston said the milk truck was traveling north on Hoxington road, and the Park's auto was going east on Kelly road at a high rate of speed. The deputy said that when Mr. Parks saw the milk truck in the intersection, he turned his car to the left and tried to escape the crash by driving parallel to the truck. However, there was not enough clearance and the car crashed into the box of the truck.

Cans of milk from the truck were scattered over a distance of 70 feet. Officials reported the truck traveled 40 feet from the point of impact, while the car went 120 feet. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Crushes Top

The impact of the collision crushed the roof of the auto down onto Mrs. Parks, killing her instantly, Weston reported.

Winnebago County Coroner Collins Sundberg said a coroner's jury would be sworn in today. No time was set for the inquest.

Authorities were called to the scene at 8:15 a.m. Three wreckers, a pickup truck and an ambulance were dispatched.

The Parks reportedly were going to Rockford on a shopping trip. Mr. Parks is an employee of Kable Printing company. The couple had lived in Mt. Morris 25 years. They have a son, Richard, Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Parks is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Nelson Potter, Mt. Morris, and Mrs. Chester Newberg, Rockford, and six grandchildren.

Henry Wilson, Dixon, in Race for Lee Co. Sheriff

Henry (Hank) Wilson, 45, of 314½ First st., today announced his candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for the office of Lee county sheriff.

Wilson is a lifelong resident of Dixon. He was graduated from Dixon High school.

He has served as Republican senatorial committeeman for the 35th district in Illinois and as office deputy and chief deputy under former Lee county Sheriff Leroy Bates.

In the 1950 election, he lost the race for county treasurer by 16 votes.

During the last seven years, "Hank" has operated Wilson's

Judge Bracken Rules Besse Eligible as Kernan Counsel

A motion by State's Atty. James Bales in Lee county Circuit court Wednesday afternoon to prevent Robert Besse, Sterling attorney, from defending a Dixon man charged with rape was denied.

Judge Robert Bracken told Bales there was no legal basis on which he could prohibit an attorney from defending a client, that it would put the court in an impossible position.

And if the court did deny Besse the right to defend his client, Bracken contended, what could the court do if he appeared on the day of trial?

The answer to any move by the court to remove him probably would be "nuts to you," Bracken remarked.

Witness and Counsel

Bales said it is beyond his comprehension how the people can get a fair and impartial trial in this case with Besse acting both as a witness for the state and defense attorney.

The state's attorney explained how Mrs. Deloris Whitlock, 19, Sterling, a wife and mother, went to Besse and told him the story of her alleged rape by Kernan.

He felt that any jury would be confused when they find that the man she consulted, who purportedly referred her to the state's attorney, is defending the accused.

In addition, Bales pointed out that the woman might have told Besse something before coming to his office that she forgot to relate to him, thus affording an unfair advantage to the defense.

Bales said he intends to call Besse to the witness stand during the trial.

Besse Answers

Besse answered Bales by stating he felt he was in the right in defending Kernan, that Mrs. Whitlock's coming to him did not hinder the case, that he probably would have talked to her while interviewing witnesses.

He said he did not feel he was violating any ethics of his profession. Besse said he can't feel the girl was his client merely because she told him the story.

Five Sterling Youths Pay For Breakin

OREGON — (Special) — Five Sterling youths were arrested Wednesday by Ogle Chief Deputy Sheriff Dallas Twigg for breaking into the Paul Sweet home four miles southwest of Mt. Morris Dec. 23.

The youths admitted the breakin before County Court Judge Helen Rutkowski, and she placed them on probation for one year. The youths also must pay $54 each—$22 court costs and $32 restitution for damage to the Sweet home.

The youths were Martin Gensinger, 13; Ivan Kilroy, 14; Billy Reed, 14; Howard Culver, 15, and Norman Venters, 14.

The youths were charged with malicious mischief. The lock on the Sweet home door had been shot off, and a rifle, a shotgun and a case of soft drinks were taken.

India Train Crash Toll May Hit 100

KARACHI, Pakistan — The Pakistan Mail, this country's crack passenger train, ripped at 60 miles an hour into a freight train early today 75 miles north of here. Foreign Minister Sir Zafarullah Khan, who escaped unscathed, said on his return here some eyewitnesses put the total killed or injured at around 300.

The train was roaring through the Sind desert from Lahore to Karachi when it crashed into the train of oil tank cars. A number of foreigners, including Americans and Britons, were aboard the train.

Launch First A-Sub

Hailed as Historic Step in Sea Power And Toward Peace

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The world's first atom powered vessel—the submarine Nautilus—was launched today, opening a new era in sea power.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of the President, swung a bottle of champagne across the bow to send the sleek craft sliding down the ways into the Thames river.

A crowd of about 12,000 persons including a number of notables cheered as the Nautilus entered the water under a bright sunlit sky.

Hailed as Weapon

Speakers hailed the nuclear driven vessel as not only a powerful new sea weapon but as a harbinger of peaceful use of atomic engines.

As Mrs. Eisenhower hit the hull sharply, the crowd roared and whistles blew.

The nation's First Lady stood watching silently and bit her lower lip as the Nautilus slid to the river.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said during the launching ceremonies the craft symbolized both the "atomic thunderbolts" of defense and of a peaceful boon of nuclear power.

The navy's top commander, Adm. Robert B. Carney, saw the historic occasion as an unfolding of "new vistas of American sea power."

Is Symbolic

Carney said the Nautilus "is symbolic of American understanding of the importance of sea power, and American ingenuity in inventing new tools for the exercise of sea power."

The Nautilus was built with amazing speed. Her keel was laid by former President Truman June 14, 1952.

At about the same time the Westinghouse Corp., working under contract of the Atomic Energy Commission, began construction out on an Idaho desert of a land-based model atomic power plant.

That power plant—designed around an atomic furnace using the uranium element 235 as fuel—develops steam for operation of a turbine. A copy of the power plant was constructed for the Nautilus herself.

Is Big, Costly

The Nautilus, besides being the biggest and most intricate submarine ever built, also is the costliest. The navy and the EC will have spent an estimated 50 million dollars on the boat and her machinery by the time her commissioning date rolls around.

On a neighboring way is the beginning of the hull for the second nuclear submersible, the Sea Wolf. That boat will use a somewhat different type of atomic plant.

The Nautilus is about 340 feet long, with a peculiar blunt bow to give her a hoped-for underwater speed of 30 knots or better. That is as fast as the speediest surface ships travel.

House Votes Air Academy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today voted 328-86 for establishment of an Air Force academy.

The bill, backed by President Eisenhower, was the first major legislation considered by the House in the present session.

Amboy Hospital Finances Low; May Have to Close

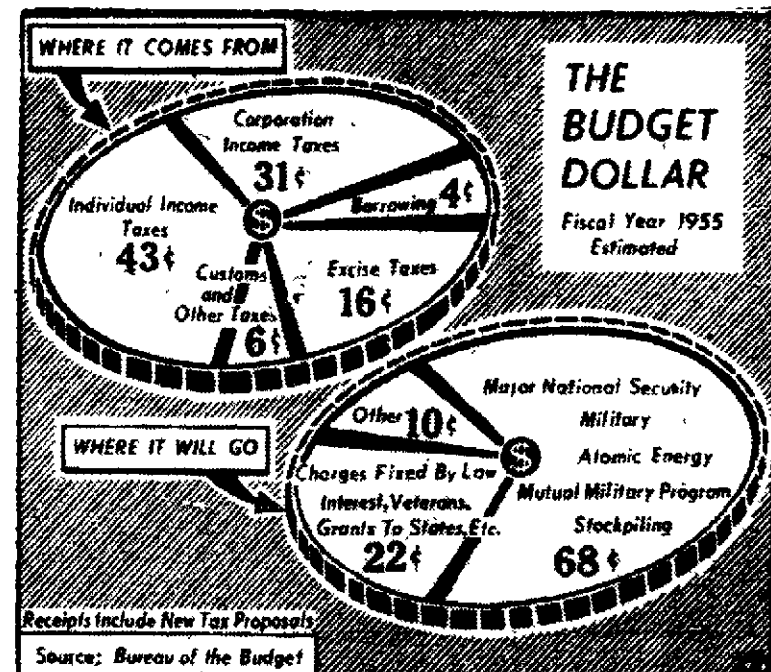

AMBOY — (Special) — The Amboy Public hospital is facing a desperate financial crisis.

The hospital's board of directors has announced the hospital is faced with an increasing deficit, and it help is not forthcoming from the community, the hospital may be forced to close its doors.

The directors said the hospital lost about $500 per month during the last six months of 1953. Income ranged from $1,900 to $2,000, while the average monthly operating cost, including payroll, was $2,500.

Entering 1954, the hospital had an old mortgage of $3,500, owed $1,100 for current operating expense and faced January expenses of $1,500 for payroll and $1,000 to $1,200 for expenses.

On the other side of the ledger, the money on hand was only $1,118.13. About $2,800 was owed to the hospital. The directors said $830 of the accounts receivable might be collected in January, but some of them are tied up in estates, and might not be collected for some time.

Congress Praises Budget Message

Foreign Aid Spending Due for a Going Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress members generally applauded President Eisenhower's budget cutting today but some hoisted storm signals over his proposals for high foreign aid spending and hiking the national debt limit.

Some Democrats sniped at the President's failure to achieve a budget balance, but there was widespread acceptance of his proposed cutback in armed services spending with increased reliance on air power and new weapons.

Balance Is Good

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee said his group's goal would be to cut the President's spending proposals by three billion dollars and so avoid the deficit of that amount forecast by Eisenhower.

General appraisals ranged widely. "A masterpiece of statesmanship," said House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass).

"As phony as a wooden nutmeg," said Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), senior minority member of the House Appropriations Committee.

There was evident trouble ahead for the President from both Republicans and Democrats on his proposal to spend $5,400,000,000 on overseas military and economic aid in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and to add 3½ billions in new funds for future use.

Need Strong Proof

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said in an interview it would take "strong proof to show that Congress should appropriate another billion dollars for foreign economic aid."

Ferguson said "I'm disappointed that the budget isn't going to be balanced. I hope cuts will be made in Congress that will bring it into closer balance."

On the Democratic side, Sen. George (D-Ga.), said he believes foreign economic aid should be wiped out, except for technical assistance to other nations and to full commitments in Korea.

House Minority Leader Rayburn (D-Texas) said he believes the President's deficit estimate is too low.

Recalls Promises

"In view of the campaign promises of the Republicans to balance the budget, I wonder when they are going to do it," he said. "By next June 30 they will have had 18 months in office. I hope the defense budget hasn't been cut too deeply. I would much rather be alive with an empty pocketbook than dead with a full one."

House Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind) said: "President Eisenhower's budget proposals lay the foundation for further tax reductions in the future... The Republican administration is winning the battle to bring out in line with income."

$65½ Billion Budget Goes To Congress

Despite Cuts, U. S. Headed for Deficit In Next Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower laid a 65½-billion-dollar budget before congress today, slashing 5½ billion dollars from total spending but proposing record outlays for atomic energy, continental defense and overseas military aid.

Despite a 7½ per cent cut under estimated spending this year—also lowered — Eisenhower told Congress the government will wind up the 1955 fiscal year nearly three billion dollars in the red. Fiscal 1955 starts July 1.

No Tax Cuts

Although he proposed a broad program of tax law changes, he told Congress no further general tax cuts are justified at present.

Other Stories

Other stories concerning Ike's budget message can be found on Page 8 and Page 11. On Page 8 his tax revision program is amplified. On Page 11 the military spending program is explained.

His message said the budget was based on a "new concept" of security planning which places reliance on "the full exploitation of modern air power" and on "new weapons" to justify manpower and dollar defense cuts.

He proposed spending $2,425,000,000 next year for atomic energy. This increase of 225 millions over this year would bring atomic spending to "the highest point in our history," he said. He also said that since most atomic energy plant construction is complete, spending now would concentrate on "operations."

He set no figure for continental defense, but said outlays would be "greater than ever before in our history" to provide early warning and reaction to attack.

Aid Estimate Up

Military aid would rise by 75 million dollars, he said, to a new peak of $4,275,000,000 for round-the-world assistance to friendly nations.

The President told Congress "there will be no way of operating within the present debt limit" of 275 billion dollars in the last six months of this year. Therefore, he said, he was renewing his request, stymied in the Senate last summer, for a higher ceiling.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told newsmen the administration would ask again for 290 billion dollars borrowing authority, a boost of 15 billions.

Both Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, who met newsmen separately in briefing sessions, refused to forecast when the budget might be balanced. Both said efforts to bring outgo down to the level of income would not be relaxed.

First In 21 Years

This budget was the first one prepared by a national Republican administration in 21 years. All the recommendations, of course, are subject to approval by Congress.

There is considerable election-year sentiment there to reduce taxes further, a step which would swell the deficit unless corresponding cuts were made in spending.

He said his tax program would result in about 600 million dollars tax relief each for individuals and for businesses, in addition to the changes that took effect Jan. 1: a 10 per cent cut in personal tax rates and abolition of the excess profits tax on corporations.

In the message of about 40,000 words, Eisenhower also:

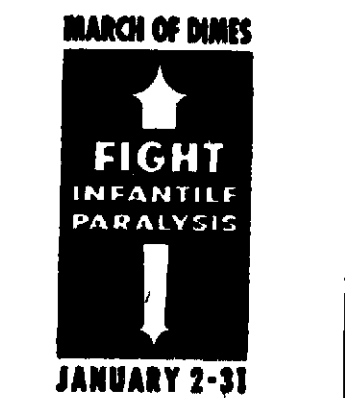

1. Recommended a 25-point tax revision program, calling upon congress to (1) shift the annual personal income tax deadline from March 15 to April 15; liberalize deductions for family medical costs; allow limited deductions for child

Senate Okays Seaway Plan

Canada May Snub U. S. On St. Lawrence Scheme

Tiny Books

MURCIA, Spain (AP) — There's a book on the way to President Eisenhower, but it may get lost in the mail.

It stands three-tenths of an inch high and two-tenths of an inch wide, and contains the entire text of the Spanish-American "aid for bases" agreement.

Manuel Romero, 68, a bank messenger, worked nine hours a day for 45 days on two tiny volumes. The second booklet is for Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish Chief of State.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate, after slapping down St. Lawrence seaway legislation for two decades, has finally taken a huge step towards authorizing the United States to join Canada in carrying out the project.

But after an enabling measure sailed through the senate Wednesday night on a 51-33 vote, Canadian government informants raised a serious question as to whether their country was still interested in U. S. participation.

In Ottawa, government sources said that country still would push for an all-Canadian seaway on her side of the boundary river. The Canadian government was represented as feeling that the United States, spending 105 million dollars, would be getting too much of a bargain in joint control of navigation and shipping tolls.

They explained Canada already has spent that much on locks and is prepared to put up 300 million dollars for navigation facilities.

The bill approved by the senate would permit the United States to join with Canada in building a 27-foot-deep St. Lawrence river channel linking the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

The bill, strongly supported by President Eisenhower and the joint chiefs of staff because of the project's claimed importance to national defense, now goes to the house.

Because the house has never considered the bill, observers were at a loss to predict its chances there.

The bill approved by the senate would establish a St. Lawrence Development Corp., with authority to issue 105 million dollars in bonds. Tolls on shipping would be expected to retire these in 50 years or less.

Statehood Bill Faces Opposition

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For more than 15 years congressional committees have battled around the question of letting the territories of Hawaii and Alaska become states.

The house gave approval for Hawaii three times, in 1947, 1950 and 1953, and for Alaska once, in 1950; the senate, never for either.

In 1948, the Democrats favored "immediate" statehood for both. But former President Truman couldn't get the Democratic-controlled congress to carry through. In their 1952 platform the Democrats repeated themselves.

In that year, with Eisenhower heading the ticket, the Republicans came out for "immediate" statehood for Hawaii but, for Alaska, admission, presumably not so speedy.

Full A Switch

Ironically, in the 1952 elections Alaska, Democratic for years, elected a Republican legislature while in Hawaii, traditionally Republican, the Democrats made gains.

As soon as he got into the White House, Eisenhower asked his Republican-controlled congress to let Hawaii into the union.

The house okayed a statehood bill for Hawaii, but not the senate. Two weeks ago Eisenhower again urged Hawaiian statehood, and again passed over Alaska.

If the senate interior and insular affairs committee sent up a bill on Hawaii alone, it might get quick action and might even pass the senate. If an Alaska bill came up separately, Alaska would probably be pushed aside.

A Stalemate

But if the committee sent up one bill combining Hawaii and Alaska, neither might get approval.

This week the committee, on which the Republicans have a majority, took up the question. Only one Republican, Sen. Malone of Nevada, and all the Democrats—except Sen. Long of Louisiana who had committed himself to Hawaii—favored a combined Hawaii-Alaska bill; and all the other Republicans would go for a single bill on Hawaii.

But the vote when it came—it was 87—was for a combined bill. Sen. Dworth (R-Iowa) had voted with Malone and the Democrats. Why? He said later: "To force a showdown."

Unless the full senate separates the two when it gets the bill, Hawaii's chances of statehood this year don't look too good. Alaska seems to have no chance at all.

Extra Hauling

TRENTON, Mo. (AP) — Sunday was water-hauling day at the L. R. Maymo home, to be ready for the washing, Monday.

But — still on Sunday — gasoline leaked out of a jug, ran under the kerosene operated refrigerator and ignited. The wash water put the fire out and the fire-fighting Raymo's suffered only minor burns. They had to haul more water for the Monday wash.

Since it first opened in 1792, the U. S. Mint has struck gold, silver and minor coins valued at more than $7,000,000,000.

Vitamin C in Citrus Fruit Is Help in Fighting Colds

WINTER COLDS TAKE A BEATING when youngsters are fortified with Juices. These youngsters have theirs after school.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

One of the safest and sanest things that everyone can do every day to keep the system toned for colder, changeable weather, and to prevent winter colds, is to get an adequate amount of vitamin C daily.

Citrus fruits, the best natural source of this vitamin, are right at their peak now. They represent one of the cheapest and most pleasant ways to good health and adequate vitamin C.

This year's crop of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines is setting a record. Right now you can find plenty of the handy, little zipper-skinned tangerines. Grandma called them "punkin' oranges." They're ideal for lunch box use.

The big juice oranges most plentiful this month are the Pineapple variety, and you're sure to get at least a quart of juice from every five pounds of these oranges. Easy to ream, it's a good idea to juice a dozen or more and keep the juice covered in a container in the refrigerator for mid-day snacks. There are good supplies of Temple oranges, too, this year. They are the ones that peel easily like tangerines.

The Florida grapefruit crop alone is a whopping 37,000,000 boxes. You can buy either the white or pink fruit.

The seeded grapefruit is probably the least costly, and you needn't fear the chore of fixing it. When serving halves, take a sharp knife and cut around all the seeds in one motion, removing a cone-shaped piece from the center of the half, core and seeds all at once.

This leaves a small cavity which you can garnish with cranberry sauce, grapes or cherries, if you wish. Grapefruit halves, cold or hot, are wonderful first courses, and with the emphasis on low-calorie diets, they're getting more and more attention as desserts.

He Designs Sub Interiors, Even to Pictures on Walls

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P) — If you were fitting out a new submarine, what kind of pictures would you hang on the walls?

This was one of the problems faced by a commercial designing firm called in by the U. S. Navy to make the Nautilus, the world's first atom-powered submarine, a comfortable underwater home to the sailors who man her.

Walter P. Margulies, partner in the firm of Lippincott and Margulies, had designed everything from motor cars to cocktail lounges, from vacuum cleaners to soup and beer can labels, and one of his firm's beer can labels won first prize in a national contest.

Most Challenging
But he found his two-year job of making the new submarine more habitable one of the most challenging of his career. And the result would amaze the shade of John Paul Jones. It is a submarine's dream.

The Nautilus is able to stay submerged for two months and sail around the world in that time. But men in close quarters often get on each other's nerves, and fighting efficiency falls off with lowered morale.

"Our task was to use color and design to fight monotony, improve living conditions, and provide as much privacy and variety as was possible," said Margulies.

the Nautilus the colors are crisp and sharp, the lights brighter, and even the equipment control knobs are rough to the hand—to keep the crew alert.

Reverse Design

In the relaxation areas the reverse psychology is employed. Colors are subdued, noise is minimized, and there are no plaid patterns — as complicated patterns have been found to increase seasickness.

The mess hall has yellow walls and red seats, said Margulies. Each sailor has a fluorescent bed lamp, and he sleeps on a foam rubber mattress. He can sit up without bumping his head on the bunk above him, and the men don't have to sleep nose-to-nose as in the old days.

"Our aim was to have a well-rounded pattern of comfort — so that a sailor could leave a duty post, take a few steps and enter as homelike an atmosphere as possible. Cutting down the hardships reduces the tensions of undersea life in crowded quarters.

"Paying attention to human needs pays off in higher morale."

Ike's Social Security Plan Shows Concern for the People

The social security system has been part of the federal and state government fabric since 1938. No politician who values his political life would propose that any substantial portion of it be repealed.

On the contrary, most politicians agree that social security is here to stay, whatever some of them may say publicly about "welfare-statism." In fact, the Republicans, who did not author the system, promised in their 1952 national platform to extend security coverage and make other improvements.

In keeping with those pledges, President Eisenhower recently submitted a broad plan for the further development of social security.

First of all, the president proposed to widen coverage from the present 69 million Americans to 80 million, bringing under protection self-employed farmers, professional people and others.

Second, he would liberalize provisions governing outside earnings for the aged. Right now, any time a person under 75 years of age earns $75 a month on the outside, he loses that month's social security benefit. Mr. Eisenhower would allow an individual to make $1000 a year in this manner without jeopardizing his government benefit.

Third, he would raise monthly payments. For those now retired, the existing individual minimum per month is $25, the maximum $85. The range for a man and wife is $37.50 and $127.50. Under the new plan, the individual lows and highs would be $30 and $98.50, the man and wife figures $45 and $147.75.

For people retiring in the future, the individual maximum would climb to $108.50, for a man and wife, $162.75, as result of increased contributions.

At this time, both employer and employee contribute 2 per cent each on earnings up to $3600 a year. That rate is slated to go up to 3 per cent by 1965. Mr. Eisenhower would hike it even higher, to 3.75 per cent, by 1970. And he would have this bite taken out of $4200 a year instead of $3600.

All these proposals can be argued for on reasonable grounds.

If the system is here to stay, as seems evident, then it ought fairly to cover as much of the working population as possible. No segment should suffer discrimination.

But certainly persons able and willing to continue working past retirement age ought to be encouraged to do so without penalty of loss of benefit. It appears reasonable, too, that contributions should gradually rise so that the ultimate return to the retired worker may be greater.

These principles put wise stress on self-help within a system of group protection.

At the same time, the plan to hike benefits makes sense, since the postwar inflation has sharply reduced the purchasing power of the dollar. What may have seemed an adequate minimum some years back can look pretty skimpy in today's markets.

By this program Mr. Eisenhower has offered hard, specific evidence that his concern for the average American is not a thing of mere high-sounding generalities. His proposals deserve the attention of his party and the whole congress.

'Swindle' Leads to Difficult Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY

You may not agree with South's opening bid of three hearts, but it has quite a bit to recommend it. This was the bid chosen by Alfred Sheinwald, author of two best-selling bridge books for beginners, at the recent national tournament in Dallas.

"Game wasn't very likely," Sheinwald explained, "in view of my partner's pass. Because of the unfavorable vulnerability, my bid showed a very strong heart suit and about seven sure winners."

"Hence my partner could still raise to game if he had three probable tricks. I wasn't anxious to get to three hearts by degrees with dummy's ace, and cashed the queen and ten of spades to discard two clubs. He then led the queen of diamonds from dummy to discard his last club. West could ruff, of course, but only with a card that would have been a trump trick in any case. Sheinwald made three spade tricks and six trumps, fulfilling his contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Heart Pass 2 Clubs Pass
2 Diamonds Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades 7-3-2, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds J-6-2, Clubs A-K-Q-5. What do you do?
A—Bid three clubs. With 10 points in high cards opposite an opening bid you have both the right and the duty to make a second response. You are not anxious to support either red suit, and you cannot bid no-trump with no stopper in the unbid suit. Hence you must rebid your strong club suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spade 2, Hearts 9-4, Diamonds J-6-2, Clubs A-K-Q-J-5-2. What do you do?

Former Illinois Newsman Is Dead

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Charles Lincoln Rhodes, 93, a former Illinois newspaperman known to four generations of his colleagues as Dusty Rhodes, died Wednesday at his home.

A native of Waverly, Ill., Rhodes suffered an attack of meningitis during his first newspaper job on the former Chicago Times in the early 1880s. To regain his strength, he walked from Evanston, Ill., to Savannah, Ga., and wrote of his experiences along the way in a column signed Dusty Rhodes.

He later worked on newspapers in San Francisco and Honolulu before becoming associated with the Davi Co., a pharmaceutical house. He retired a few years ago.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Tweedy of Jacksonville, Ill.

Employs Himself

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A policeman can be his own employer in Sweden. In the Boholm port of Oernskoldevik Patrolman Bertil Skoglund is head of the revenue board and vice chairman of the town council—both of which rank higher in authority than the town's police board.

Besides, he is a full time sick insurance manager, member of the county council, chairman of (a) the pensions board, (b) elementary school board, (c) technical school board, (d) Socialist Workers' Commune, (e) Swedish Policemen's association and (f) Scandinavian Police Officers' Federation.

The Monkey on His Back

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Behind the Screen: The most shocking rumor of a spotless new year in Hollywood is that movietown studios are going along with the Egyptian government's invitation to make pictures there provided that no actors or technicians of the Hebrew faith (or ancestry) are brought along with the Hollywood crews.

Even with the explanation that Egypt is at odds with the Israeli government, a ban against Americans of any faith by another country is an outrage. The great actors and craftsmen of Hebrew ancestry in Hollywood have nothing to do with Israeli-Egyptian politics.

Hollywood should cancel all production plans in Egypt, no matter how advantageous the natural locales may be. If General Naguib persists in this reported discrimination against Americans.

Marilyn Monroe can top Marlene Dietrich's $30,000 per week at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas any time she says "Yes." The Las Vegas offer, and another for $50,000 per week, plus percentages, for Miss Crazy Hips to play the Chicago Theater, are the key to the strategy of her agents in boosting her salary from $1,000 to $3,000 per week at Fox. This salary battle now has her on suspension at the studio.

June Haver's ready for that full-scale comeback. She now has a press agent. . . . A radio version of Wally Cox's TV hit, "Mr. Peepers," is being planned.

Gus Van (remember Van and Schenck?) is completing his autobiography, "Sing, Sucker, Sing," and admits it will be offered to Hollywood. Gus lives in semi-retirement at Normandy Shores in Miami. . . . Patrice Wymore has notified choreographer John Gregory that she will be back in the U.S. with tiny Arnelia Roma Flynn in February or March to prepare a dance act for theaters and nightclubs. The Flynn heiress will visit Pat's parents in Kansas.

HAD TO MAKE CHOICE

Saucer-eyed Rita Gam, the gorgeous discovery from TV who made headlines without saying a word in Ray Milland's dialogless movie, "The Thief," walked out of an MGM contract, and a big-star build-up, it now can be told, because she had to choose between the studio and her husband.

Explaining for the first time why she never reported to the studio after melting the celluloid in "The Thief," Rita told me:

"I never should have signed that MGM contract. I wanted to commute to Hollywood from New York, where my husband (Sidney Lume, director of TV's "You Are There") has to live because of his work."

"When the studio said I would have to live in Hollywood, I refused. I told them I loved my husband and that I wouldn't jeopardize our marriage with a separation. The studio finally agreed to tear up my contract if I'd do one movie in Europe."

"I'm not anti-Hollywood. I want to go on making movies. But I want to be with my husband in New York when I'm not working."

Now playing the wild daughter of Attila, the Hun who threatens to conquer Rome in U-I's "Sign of the Pagan," Rita's happy. She'll return to New York the day the film is completed, and she won't be back in Hollywood until there's another role for her.

ALMOST A RECORD

Paul Gilbert, the bright comic who zoomed sky-high on NBC's Night Revue last summer, is courting a beauty who may become his EIGHTH wife.

Susan Hayward, it's said, will ask to be excused from the starring role in "Untamed" in order to fight Jess Barker in his money-and-child custody demands. It's the role Susan has been waiting for, but it would take her to Africa for months.

The Doctor Says: Trachoma Can Be Beaten Through Use of New Drugs

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A reader asks for a discussion of trachoma, a disease of the eye. What was formerly a tragic cause of blindness has now been almost conquered.

At first trachoma looks like any other acute inflammation of the outer part of the eye. The eye appears inflamed and thickened. Little blister-like swellings appear around the edges within a few days. In three or four weeks the thickening and other signs become typical of trachoma and are easy to distinguish from other inflammations of the eye.

The disease produces scarring of some of the tender tissues of the eye and this is what causes the inability to see.

A correct and early diagnosis is most important in the treatment of trachoma. Many treatments which are useful in other eye diseases, however, are not satisfactory for trachoma.

DRUGS CURE TRACHOMA

The improved outlook for the sufferer from trachoma comes from the use of the sulfa drugs or penicillin. This is one of the few virus diseases which respond to these preparations.

It is for these reasons that early diagnosis and prompt treatment are necessary so that blindness can be avoided and painful and difficult operations on the eye made unnecessary.

If supports ever drop to 75 per cent of parity on wheat, farmers will scream.

—Homer L. Brinkley, National Council of Farm Cooperatives.

If the Communist starts it (Korean war) again as he did in 1950, he realizes the full weight of an infuriated America will come down upon him.

—Gen. Mark W. Clark.

What's Right?

After a young man has proposed to a girl and been accepted it is up to him to ask to have a talk with her father. He needn't go in for the old-fashioned, "May I have your daughter's hand in marriage?" But he should tell the father that he is in love with his daughter and will do his best to make her happy and tell him about his job and his plans for the future.

So he has a right to know as much as possible about the man who proposes to take over that responsibility.

TALKING BIRDS

Among the birds that can be taught to talk are the piping crowns, the mynah parrot, some species of jays, macaws, and even starlings.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why has the Saar region been such a disputed territory in European history?

A—Because of its many coal mines and steel foundries, ownership of which has been claimed by both France and Germany.

Q—Did President Wilson veto the 18th Amendment?

A—No, but he vetoed the Volstead Act, designed to enforce the amendment. Congress passed it over his veto.

Q—What is the oldest capital city in North America?

A—Mexico City, which dates back to about 1325.

Q—Does the United States still rely on foreign countries for its camphor supply?

A—No.

Q—What is the law regarding the speed of falling bodies?

A—All falling bodies of the same size and shape, regardless of weight, travel through air at the same speed.

Q—How does the Gregorian year compare with the solar year?

A—At present the average Gregorian year is about 26.8 seconds longer than the solar year.

'Empty-Nest' Stage Is Time For Mothers to Seek Jobs

The decline in the size of the family and prolongation of life has added a new stage to the family cycle — the "empty-nest" stage, says Dr. Mirra Komarovsky, chairman of the department of sociology at Barnard College.

To fill the "empty-nest" stage—the period when a mother's children have all left home, but when she is still a strong and able-bodied woman—Dr. Komarovsky suggests that women should return to business careers.

A great many middle-aged women are already doing just that. And with admirable success, too.

In fact, any woman who doubts the wisdom of Dr. Komarovsky's advice should look around and see which group to her seems the happiest.

Is it the "empty-nest" women who are still sitting on the nest, making busy work in order to fool themselves into thinking they are still needed as full-time homemakers?

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic—American newspapers, which are flown to this progressive but hatefully maligned island republic every morning, reported recently that Senator Joe McCarthy was preparing to expose outrageous favoritism to friends of the Roosevelt-Truman administration in income tax cases.

I have important information on that subject. Two vice presidents of the United States were the beneficiaries of scandalously generous consideration by the treasury and one tyrant of the union racket was named in a deficiency report by special agents of the Internal Revenue with a recommendation that this case be referred to the Department of Justice for criminal procedure. The amount of the union boss' actual deficiency, meaning an evasion of taxes due the treasury, was between $30,000 and $40,000 according to the waning recollection of my informant who was a treasury agent at the time. The case was built up so long ago that his memory is not distinct. However, he is confident that the amount was at least $30,000 and he thinks it might have been as much as $40,000. On the point of the recommendation of criminal action his memory is firm.

I have reported these facts Senator McCarthy for obvious reasons. He probably has power to subpoena all the treasury agents who worked on these and other cases of the kind and to send out U. S. marshals to drag in the two former vice presidents and to make them come clean, with prison for contempt the only alternative. As I have hitherto reported, one of these vice presidents, a meaty-mouthed faker with a sanctimonious pretense of philanthropy was found short to the extent of $500,000. The case was complicated by the involvement of at least one of his relatives and two business firms in which he had financial interests. Nevertheless, the deficiency was roughly $500,000 and, as far as my informant's knowledge goes, the whole business was "put to sleep" by F. D. Roosevelt.

The informant said frankly that the inquiry was "a hatchet job" ordered by Roosevelt for the purpose of making this individual toe the line politically at a time when he was getting obstreperous. The agent had no personal volition in any of these cases. But he did admit some personal animus in the case of this monumental deficiency because he had found it possible on his relatively small salary to give $150 to a Catholic church in which he was interested, whereas, he observed not a dime of charity was disclosed in any of the tax returns which he inspected in the $500,000 case.

The other vice president of the United States ignored the federal income tax absolutely for a period of "eight or ten years." The treasury agent said this faker got alarmed when he was elected vice president and sent in a return covering those years in which he was in default. No crime was involved here.

The treasury agents concerned could shed no light on the ultimate result of these deficiency cases because as several of them have explained, such problems pass beyond their purview when their official reports are presented to their superiors in the internal revenue.

Therefore, it will be necessary for McCarthy to subpoena the several commissioners and collectors of Internal Revenue who had the higher authority at the time. Certainly Henry Morgenthau should be called to account although, odd as it may seem, Morgenthau is reputed to have been loath to permit such shady deals in tax cases.

The vice presidents cannot claim immunity from examination on the ground which Harry Truman set forth in refusing to honor a congressional subpoena from Congressman Harold Velde, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Truman dodged the issue by claiming that Velde would thus be invading the executive function and responsibility of the presidency. His theory was that even after leaving office, a president remained immune for ever because, otherwise, incumbent presidents would be beset by a fear of inquisition in after years and might thus be deterred from doing their duty.

These two vice presidents can make no such claim. The matters

George Dolenz asked a beauty if she had seen "Anapurna," the new documentary film about mountain climbing.

"Anapurna?" repeated the doll. "I don't think so. You see one of those Italian glamor girls and you've seen them all."

Marlene Dietrich may join Alan Ladd in the remake of "The Covered Wagon." With La Dietrich's bare-hosom gown at Las Vegas recently, and Alan's fondness for showing his virile chest, they ought to call it "The Uncovered Wagon."

Find Woman Imprisoned For Murder Is Innocent

'Victim' Died a Natural Death, Probers Discover

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Dark-haired Emma Jo Johnson is "not angry at anyone" for sending her to prison for murder—a murder which the Nevada board of pardons now says never was committed.

Emma Jo, 35, was ordered freed Wednesday after 2 years, 8 months and 28 days behind bars as a result of a year-long, $15,000 investigation by mystery story author Erle Stanley Gardner and others.

The board accepted doctors' findings that Mrs. Jane Jones, 72, of Las Vegas died of a brain tumor—not as a result of an asserted attack by Emma Jo.

Emma Jo's troubles started in early May, 1951, when she called at the home of her former landlady, Mrs. Jones, for mail.

At the trial, the state said the two women got into a fight and Emma Jo beat Mrs. Jones so severely that a resulting blood clot caused the older woman's death two weeks later.

Emma Jo testified she only grabbed Mrs. Jones by her braids in self-defense and Mrs. Jones slumped to the floor unconscious.

The jury convicted Emma Jo of second degree murder; sentence, 10 to 12 years.

Author Gardner, who also is a successful attorney, went to work on the case about a year ago as a result of a letter from Jack Wengert, 44, Emma Jo's fiancé.

Gardner, pathologist Le Moyne Snyder of Michigan and Dr. R. B. H. Gladwohl of St. Louis became convinced that Mrs. Jones was not murdered, but died of a brain tumor.

In the long, expensive investigation, they found Dr. T. V. Nendrick, Las Vegas physiotherapist, to whom Mrs. Jones had gone the day before the altercation.

Was Dying

Dr. Nendrick said Mrs. Jones was dying of the brain tumor and needed immediate surgery. He was not called to testify at Emma Jo's trial, although he said he sent the defense attorney an anonymous note.

Mrs. Johnson's sentence was commuted to time served.

Emma Jo was philosophical: "I'm not angry at anyone—I'm just so grateful that somebody came to my rescue. The district attorney, the judge and the jury did their job as they felt it should be done."

Waits for Fiance

Although free, Emma Jo stayed at the prison Wednesday night waiting for Wengert, who has waited for her for almost three years. Wengert, a Las Vegas chef, and Emma Jo were to have been married in 1951, after she divorced navy man Russell Johnson.

U.S. Acts to Cut Corn Crop

Benson Imposes 17.4 Cut In Acreage Allotments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government, seeking to reduce corn production this year, has imposed curbs on plantings in a big commercial producing area.

Corn supplies are at a near peak. Big stocks have accumulated in the hands of the Agriculture Department under price support operations.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson late Wednesday announced acreage allotments for corn in a designated commercial corn-producing area. He called for a reduction of 17.4 per cent in plantings in the area from last year. The allotment was set at 46,995,504 acres compared with 56,819,428 acres planted last year.

Cuts Production

The aim of the allotments is to limit production in the area to about two billion bushels compared with a normal production of at least 2,400,000,000 bushels.

Last year's U. S. corn production was 3,176,000,000 bushels. The department forecasts a carryover of old crop corn of at least 900,000,000 bushels when the 1954 crop is harvested. The bulk of it is expected to be stored under price support programs.

The commercial area includes 834 major corn-producing counties in Arkansas, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Free To Choose

Farmers in the commercial area will be free to abide by or ignore their allotments, but only those who comply with them will be 90 per cent of parity or about $1.60 a bushel.

There will be no allotments outside the commercial area, but its farmers will be eligible for price supports at only 67½ per cent of parity, or an average of about $1.20.

Australian bush native diet includes ants, caterpillars, cicadas, and other insects, as well as various dishes compounded of snake meat.

Three Relate Of 'Investing' With Ottawan

CHICAGO (AP)—Three more witnesses told Wednesday of investing nearly $11,000 with a former Ottawan Ill. finance company man in hopes of large profits, but said they recovered only small interest payments.

Those testifying in the Federal Court fraud trial of Edwin R. Klein were Mrs. Robert Steer; William Levv, a druggist, and Mrs. Bertha Sontag, former beauty shop operator.

The government alleges Klein bilked investors of $110,000 by soliciting funds on the pretense he was purchasing a loan business in Pittsburgh and could pay investors high dividends. A government witness connected with the Pittsburgh firm testified earlier the company was never for sale and that Klein had made no attempt to buy it.

Mrs. Steer, wife of a grocer, testified she gave Klein $3,400 in 1951, has received $380.63 in interest, and has not been repaid principal.

Mrs. Sontag testified she has received only "a small amount of interest" on her $2,000 investment with Klein in 1950.

Levv estimated he got $550 interest on his $5,500 investment.

Modern Eyeglass Frames Becoming To Older Women

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The coming of eyeglass frames into the realm of fashion has done wonders for the morale of many young women. They took to the barlequin frames, the gold-dusted ones and the black ones, too, with sheer delight.

Somewhat, though, many older women have clung to their old styleless frames. Perhaps they fear making the wrong choice. Or perhaps they think the colored and shaped frames are too dashing for their years.

Actually, the new styles can add greatly to the attractiveness of the older woman. The right shape and color will soften her expression, erasing years.

In fact, the selection of becoming frames is now among the major grooming steps of all women who wear glasses, but particularly of the older women.

To help yourself make the right decision, look for pictures of models wearing glasses. Study the shapes of their faces and of the frames. This should help you to visualize what would look best on you.

Of course, you should be allowed plenty of time to try on the various styles when you make your purchase. But it will help to have a good idea of what is becoming.

In deciding color, consider the colors that predominate in your wardrobe as well as the color of your hair and your skin tones.

And, by the way, if you wear eyeglasses all the time, do not wear veils or dangling earrings. Hats that come forward on the head should also be avoided. When worn with glasses, they create a cluttered appearance.

The program committee for the South Dixon Willing Workers 4-H club met Jan. 18, in the home of president, Dianne Dennis. With the help of leader, Mrs. Fred Odenthal Jr., and mothers present, Mrs. Archie Severson and Mrs. Milton Dennis, the group made plans for the activities in the coming months.

Those present were: Ruth Severson, Janice Wolfe, Judy Wolfe, Sara Cusse, Dianne Dennis and Taffy Kentner.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother.

Joella Stevenson, Bride of Gerald Nickols, Wears White

OHIO—Miss Joella Stevenson, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Stevenson, Peru, Ill., and John Stevenson, jr., Ohio, and Gerald Nickols, son of Mrs. Agnes Woznick, Peru, were united in marriage in a pretty wedding at the Ohio Methodist church parsonage, Sunday, Jan. 10, at 4 p. m. Rev. Earl M. Edwards officiated.

The bride wore an ankle length gown of white satin with net skirt, bordered with chantilly lace, and a matching lace bodice. Her blusher veil was held in place by a tiara of rhinestones and pearls and her bouquet was colonial style of white carnations centered with an orchid.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Sandra and Janice, who wore chartreuse and yellow taffeta dresses, ankle length, and of identical fashion. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow and orchid carnations—respectively.

Harry Nichols served his brother as best man. Rodney Dougdale, Peru, was usher.

Soloist, Sylvia Ewalt, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Robert Ewalt at the piano.

A reception immediately following the service was held in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Stevenson, Ohio. Mrs. Kay Lou Dougdale was in charge of the gift table and Mrs. Mary Sargent poured coffee.

The bride attended school in Ohio graduating from high school with the class of '53. She is currently employed at Westclox, Peru.

The bridegroom attended LaSalle-Peru high school and spent three years in the U. S. Army, 18 months of which were spent in Korea. He also is employed at Westclox, Peru.

For going away the bride wore a brown suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

DAYDREAMS WEAR YOU OUT IF YOU DON'T WAKE UP

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some time ago an attractive woman of 34 came to see me. First, she told me she feared the effects of her growing discontent on her little girl. Then she said:

"I'm bored. Let's face it. After eight years of marriage, my husband bores me. Oh, he's kind enough. But if my future holds nothing but cooking food, cleaning it up and watching my husband digest it while he reads the paper, I couldn't take it. Do you think that I need a psychologist?"

I said I didn't know. So she made up her own mind and got one. He is, I am sure, trying to release her from the cocoon spun about her by romantic claims on life.

How was it spun? By a thousand suggestions of future glory so gossamer light she never knew they had touched her? By childhood flatteries of her books, brains and other assets she didn't have to work for, by too much pride in her social successes, by protection against Saturday morning housework.

By it all beginning to add up to the promise that special things were due her, until in adolescence the Daydream could take her over.

It was easy for the Daydream. All the past evasions of dirty jobs in mother's kitchen made it simple for the Daydream. And while she sat in theaters lost in movies about desert-island passion and penthouse love, it tightened its deadly web.

So we mustn't be surprised that now, cleaning up in her own kitchen, she finds life boring. Why shouldn't it be? It can't possibly compete with the Daydream of two mortals living in eternal peaks of dramatic sensations.

In nightdreaming the alarm clock wakes us up from our illusion that we are dancing in Cinderella's ball gown. But in the Daydream, no alarm clock wakes us up. Its visions of glory persist.

That's why it's so dangerous and destructive. Compared with its visions, the spectacle of a littered table and a husband's weariness haven't a chance.

If it weren't for the Daydream, of course, we'd get busy at the table, instead of resenting it. But because of that old promise that special things were due us, we can't. Our strength has been already spent in anger, instead of action.

So whether we seek psychologists or aspirin for this kind of discontent, the Daydream is usually back of it. And if we don't wake up, it can go right on exhausting us with hate of the contrast between what we've got and those special things someone once thought were due us.

Supt. Nickell Tells PTA Here of State Functions

The relationship of local school units and the state was reviewed Wednesday night by Vernon L. Nickell, Illinois superintendent of public instruction, at a meeting of the Dixon high school Parent-Teacher Association.

Nickell emphasized the philosophy of his office, contending public schools belong to the people in the local school districts.

He said it is not the purpose of his office to dictate policy to local units, but to serve those units in an advisory capacity.

Aim: Better Education

Nickell said the state office of public instruction has both powers and duties in the name of better education.

They include recording all happenings in that office, supervising all public schools in determining adequate standards, recognizing schools that meet those standards, certifying state aid claims, issuing teachers certificates and obtaining necessary legislation.

Nickell explained that the state office sets up minimum standards in connection with a school's educational endeavors, physical plant, and administration.

When schools fail to meet these minimum standards, they are not considered "recognized" institutions, making them unqualified to share in state funds. In addition, students then cannot enter Illinois colleges without taking an entrance examination.

The state superintendent explained the system of state aid, whereby funds are set aside to assist local units. There is a school fund, state aid for transportation, special student fund, and school lunch fund.

Receive Grants

In the school fund, common schools receive flat grants. To insure that schools throughout the state obtain a proportionately equal share of the fund, the state operates on the basis of $173 a year per child in accord with average daily attendance.

The state also allocates about $20 a year per child for transportation and approximately $300 a year per child in the special student category. Money is also allotted for school lunches by the state and federal governments.

Nickell told of the issuance of state teachers certificates by his office. There are about 19 different types of certificates including the limited, provisional and life.

In the field of legislation, he said much of the current legislation is channeled through the school problems commissions which introduce bills into the legislature and explain them.

Today, schools operate under several basic principals required by law. They include instructing in the English language, teaching principals of democracy one hour a week, physical education and health, the nature and effects of alcohol and narcotics, honesty, kindness, justice and moral courage, proper treatment and protection of birds and animals, American history, regulation of traffic on Illinois highways and avoiding segregation on the basis of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Preview of New Medical Clinic

ARCHITECT JOHN R. McLANE, Dixon, drew the above sketch of the new Edwards' Clinic, looking northwest from the corner of Galena avenue and Seventh street. The building is already under construction and is expected to be completed by the early part of May. The medical clinic is being built for Dr. Howard Edwards and Dr. Howard Edwards, Jr., whose offices are currently located in the Dixon National bank building. It will handle the general run of medical cases, and will be able to take care of everything from consultations to X-rays. The one-story building is 38 by 62 feet and will feature a large parking lot. There will be five treatment rooms, two consultation rooms, which will double as offices for the doctors, an X-ray room, dark room, surgical room, laboratory and reception room. A basement, already constructed, will be used for storage. Theodore Wentling, Dixon, is the contractor.

Second row: Gary Reeder, almoner; Ronald LeFevre, marshal; Rodney Wallace, standard bearer; Boyd Melvin, orator; Jim Furlong, first preceptor (pro-tem); Glenn Roshbrook, second preceptor; Edward Lawton, fourth preceptor; Thomas Weber, fifth preceptor, and Paul Nelson, seventh preceptor.

DeMolay Installs Officers

Twenty-two members of the newly-organized Dixon DeMolay were installed by a team from Rockford last night at the Masonic Temple, Dixon.

The Rev. William E. Thompson, speaker for the ceremony, praised the boys and stressed the importance of their respective offices.

Installed were: Norman Stripe, master counselor; David Thomas, senior counselor; James Burbank, junior counselor; Bernard Lipnitsky, scribe; Brent Anderson, treasurer; Jack Schluter, senior deacon; James Collins, junior deacon; Richard Thompson, senior steward; Ronald French, junior steward; David Heindel, chaplain; Douglas Wadsworth, sentinel.

Gary Reeder, almoner; Ronald LeFevre, marshal; Rodney Wallace, standard bearer; Boyd Melvin, orator; Richard Jenks, first preceptor; Glenn Roshbrook, second preceptor; Edward Lawton, fourth preceptor; Thomas Weber, fifth preceptor, and Paul Nelson, seventh preceptor.

Preceding the installation ceremony and during the evening, Wayne Bates, Franklin Grove, played the organ. James Cleidon, Dixon, was soloist, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Barbara Cleidon.

The Job's Daughters closed the installation. A reception was held in the lower dining room with the DeMolay Mother's club as hostess. es. Chairman of the committee was Mrs. Omar Thomas, assisted by Mrs. S. J. Lipnitsky, Mrs. Lyle Melvin, Mrs. Leslie Hinkle, Mrs. John Tagge and Mrs. Paul Stripe.

Mrs. Don Sidell presided at the coffee service and Miss Pat Bolder presided at the punch bowl.

McCarthy's Accusation Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman says a State department investigation has produced no evidence to support a charge by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that a department employee shook down a foreign government for $150,000.

McCarthy said last summer his senate investigating subcommittee had obtained evidence of a $150,000 shake-down of a foreign government for consideration it would have gotten any day. He named neither the country nor any department personnel.

McCarthy did say the incident occurred during the secretaryship of Dean Acheson, a long-time target of McCarthy criticism.

A department spokesman said Wednesday night an investigation begun after the Justice department had decided not to handle the case is almost complete. He added: "There is no evidence at all up to this time involving any State department employee in any such shake-down."

The Justice department, it was understood, did not investigate on the ground that even if allegations were found, it would be too late to prosecute.

Naylor Co. Burglarized; Loss Is $140

Approximately $140 were taken from the Naylor and Co. building, East River road, during a burglary sometime between 5:25 p.m. Wednesday and 7:28 a.m. today.

According to Lee county Sheriff John Stouffer, the break-in was discovered by employees of the farm implement company this morning.

Apparently the burglars gained entrance to the building by prying open a rear door. They forced the door of a safe encased in the wall between the office and a display room.

Burglaries in the last few weeks indicates work by the same outfit. A similar break-in occurred sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday at the Considine garage, Harmon.

Approximately $670 was taken from a filing cabinet after the burglars forced their way into the garage by prying a window at the rear of the building.

Two other burglaries over the weekend were investigated by Dixon police. One was at the Sinclair bulk plant, Fifth street and Central place, and the other at the Chicago and Northwestern garage, near the railroad freight house on Depot avenue. Merchandise and equipment were taken.

Rockford Pair Admit Three Armed Thefts

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas state police said today that two teenage boys from Rockford, Ill., and a teen-age girl companion told of three armed robberies in Illinois last week.

Sgt. Floyd Short said the boys admitted holdups of two grocery stores at Rockford while the girl waited outside in an automobile. The third holdup was at Centralia, Ill.

Three pistols were found in the trio's automobile, Short said. One weapon was made from a cap pistol to which a steel pipe had been fastened for a barrel. A mass of rubber bands was arranged to bring the hammer down with enough force to explode a .22-caliber cartridge.

Police did not disclose the names of the juvenile suspects.

Short said the girl and one of the boys tried to get a marriage license at two Arkansas towns but were refused.

The three were arrested near state police headquarters here.

Odd Fellow Scholarships Are Offered

For the ninth consecutive year, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Illinois are offering two $400 scholarships to members of the graduating classes in Illinois public schools.

These scholarships are given as a public service. The awards will be made on the basis of scholastic standing, an original essay on the subject "Youth's Obligation to the Community," participation in school activities, extra curricular activities and activities for promotion of good citizenship.

The contests are open to 1954 graduates from the four year courses in the high schools. There is no restriction as to race, religion or nationality.

Detailed information on rules governing the contests may be obtained from the office of the high school principal.

The contest closes at midnight, April 15, 1954. Decisions of the judges will be final and the awards will be paid to the accredited college or university of the student's choice.

care; give farmers a deduction for soil conservation; extend corporation income and excise tax rates rather than permit them to decline April 1 to pre-Korea levels, and enact a series of revisions aimed at lightening and adjusting the tax load on business.

Renews Plea

2. Renewed his plea, stymied in the Senate after the House okayed it last year, for a higher legal limit on the national debt. While he used no figure today, his previous request for a boost from the present 275 billion dollars to 290 billions. The debt is now about 274 1/2 billions.

3. Revised downward budget estimates for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30. Here is the comparison between Eisenhower's estimates for the current year made last August and now, the August figure first in each instance:

Income	$ 68,302,000,000
Outgo	67,628,000,000
Deficit	72,116,000,000
Year-end debt	70,902,000,000
	3,811,000,000
	3,274,000,000
	271,100,000,000
	269,750,000,000

Eisenhower whacked appropriations requests as well as spending estimates, and commented that asking for less authority to spend was the highroad to reduced spending.

Here are the highlights of Eisenhower's budget estimates for fiscal 1955, compared with his new fiscal 1954 estimates and with the totals for fiscal 1953:

1955 spending	$ 65,370,000,000
1954 spending	70,802,000,000
1953 spending	73,982,000,000
1955 revenue	$ 62,642,000,000
1954 revenue	67,628,000,000
1953 revenue	64,593,000,000
1955 deficit	$ 2,928,000,000
1954 deficit	3,274,000,000
1953 deficit	9,389,000,000
1955 approp'ns	$ 56,283,000,000
1954 approp'ns	60,718,000,000
1953 approp'ns	60,336,000,000
1955 nat'l debt	$ 273,000,000,000
1954 nat'l debt	269,750,000,000
1953 nat'l debt	266,071,000,000
1955 cash bal.	$ 4,850,000,000
1954 cash bal.	4,850,000,000
1953 cash bal.	4,676,000,000

The new budget, Eisenhower said, "marks the beginning of a movement to shift to state and local governments and to private enterprise federal activities which can be more appropriately and more efficiently carried on in that way."

He said the budget is based on assumptions that business conditions in general, personal income and corporation profits would continue "at substantially the present high levels."

Tax Revision Urged by Ike

Reduce Revenue $1.2 Billion; Warns Against Further Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged upon Congress a big tax revision project that would reduce revenue about $1,215,000,000 next year—and then drew a line against further cuts now.

The revision program, he said in his budget message, would rewrite a tax structure he termed "haphazard," easing burdens for millions of persons and promoting business expansion to push America "to ever higher standards of living."

But Eisenhower said this program and the five billion dollars in annual tax cuts which took effect Jan. 1 are all the reductions "our national security and well-being will permit" right now.

He thus raised a barrier against growing talk by some Congress members in this election year for (1) a further general cut in individual income taxes and (2) a lowering of all excise or sales taxes which are above 10 per cent to that level.

The President reiterated his request, first made last May and renewed in his State of the Union message, for extension of present rates of excise and corporation income taxes. They are due to drop April 1 to their pre-Korea levels, three billion dollars under present levels.

The revision program would reduce taxes an estimated two billion dollars annually when it reaches full effect in later years.

One Surprise

It included one big surprise—changing the annual deadline for some 60 million individuals to file income tax returns from March 15 to April 15. A Treasury spokesman said there was no thought of making the change effective this year.

The President also called for bigger tax deductions for medical expenses, a new deduction for child-care expenses of working widows and widows, a new allowance for dependents who make more than $600, sharp cuts in taxes on income from dividends, and a tax break for single heads of households.

Ogle Estates Go to Probate

OREGON (Special)—Two estates were filed for probate in Ogle county court Wednesday.

The estate of Henry Graehling, Polo, who died in Dixon Jan. 13, listed real estate of $25,000 and personal property of $7,000.

Heirs are Cora Landis, rural Oregon; Fred Graehling, rural Polo; Paul G. Graehling, Milledgeville, and Chester G. Graehling, Polo. Paul and Fred Graehling are the administrators.

The estate of John Opetz, Oregon, who died Jan. 2, included personal property of $12,000 and real estate of $7,000.

Heirs are Louise Opetz, Oregon; Adolph Opetz, Rockford, and Amelia Frank, Freeport. Adolph Opetz was named administrator.

Don't Let Electric Drill Scare You

It Can Simplify Household Tasks and Save Time, Energy

By KAY SHERWOOD

Minor but maddening riddle for homemakers is how to get the man of the house to put up the extra shelves, hooks or racks when requested.

You wheedle, cajole, hide the sports section of the paper, soften him up on favorite desserts, nag, storm, all to no avail.

In our household, I'll make a reasonable request, such as: "Would you please put up your new tie rack so your ties won't take up so much room on my dresser?"

There are three standard replies:

1. "Does it have to be done this minute?"

2. "You bet I will. I'll run over to Dave's to see if he has screws the right size." This usually turns out to be a four-hour expedition during which time he helps Dave pour concrete for a new sidewalk, fixes Dave's car, argues politics, looks in on high school basketball practice. The screws? Oh, yes.

3. "I'll tackle that first thing Saturday morning."

Recently, and quite by accident, I licked the problem. You want to know how to get immediate action on these pesky chores?

Begin, borrow as I did or rent or buy (if you're desperate) a portable electric drill. Don't say anything about it. Just walk into the room, plug in the cord and pull the drill trigger.

There's something about the sight of a drill revolving at 1500 rpm, held casually in a feminine hand, that makes men nervous. An extra prod is to mutter vaguely about where to start drilling the holes.

This calls up a vision of the wall becoming a sieve. Makes a man per molds and cleaned and polished old brass andirons.

Joe told me that, for best results, you should take small polishing jobs to the drill, held stationary in the drill stand clamped to a table. Even though I carried the drill to the job, the results are as good and took a fraction of the time of handpolishing.

There are also a grinding wheel, for sharpening knives and scissors, and a paint-mixing attachment, which I didn't use. But the sanding discs smoothed down a little table top waiting to be refinished. I did find I had to watch my step when sanding to avoid cutting too deep.

If you try your hand with an electric power tool, you're apt to need an extension cord. Don't use an old or frayed cord. Talk to the workshop advisor, or power tool dealer or the electrician to make sure that you have a good cord, well insulated and of the proper size.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Six fire trucks roared up to answer a false alarm. Firemen found a 59-year-old grandmother beside the alarm box. She told them she was doing what she had been told to do at a demonstration on how to operate a fire alarm.

With the lamb's wool polishing bonnet fitted in place, the housewife shines up copper molds in a fraction of the time hand polishing would take.

Some Bet Their Socks on Prospect of Good Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Some folk are betting heavily on business staying good.

The outlook's good for surface travel, says the giant General Motors Corp. It announced Tuesday it would spend one billion dollars this year and next in expanding its plant to meet the future demand for motors. That will mean doubling the annual rate of spending it has kept up from the 1946 to the present.

The National Assn. of Engine & Boat Manufacturers reports today its members are confident of making and selling 30 per cent more pleasure craft this year than last. They expect the ever-growing multitude of boat enthusiasts, now estimated at 16 million in this country, to find the money to buy them.

Oil Booming

And the oil industry is thumbing its nose at the present over-supply of oil in the world. It says that this year it will spend just about as much as last—a record 2 1/2 billion dollars—in looking and drilling for new oil reserves. Steadily growing world demand will take up any slack in time, oilmen are confident.

Americans are taking to the water as never before, whether it's in a power cruiser or a putt-putt.

The boat-builders president, John W. Mulford, says his association's survey of builders show that boat sales last year topped 1952 by 32 per cent. Eighteen boat builders — and this is only a segment of the entire industry — report combined dollar sales of $8,737,730 last year, which they expect to top by 30 per cent this year.

Sales Are Up

The 14 reported unit sales totaled 24,602 craft last year, compared to 20,694 the year before, and says they expect to build and sell 29,665 in 1954.

Maine engine manufacturers look for a 30 per cent sales gain this year. Some 500,000 outboard motor units were sold in 1953, compared with 320,000 in 1952, the association reports. Inboard marine engine dollar sales varied among manufacturers, with gains ranging from 5 to 75 per cent.

The boat makers' survey indicates that the average value of craft sold in 1952 was $242 and last year $272.

Farm Cost Drop

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas farmers are being promised lower production costs to compensate a little for the lower prices they've been getting.

Extension Service Economist T. E. Atkinson says livestock feed and crop seeds are expected to cost less although labor costs will rise again. Atkinson does not expect another beef drop until late 1954 although he forecast lower poultry prices.

To remove paint stains, use gasoline or turpentine; denatured alcohol will remove lacquer, shellac, or varnish stains.

R&S SHOE SALE WILL SOON END!

There is an old maxim — "All good things must end." It's been a good thing for the folks of Dixon and vicinity who enjoyed one of the greatest shoe bargain feasts in the history of this city. The R and S Shoe Store has served this community for over 16 years with quality footwear for the entire family. They lost their lease and were forced to vacate... the end is near. Only a few more weeks at their present location. For the final wind-up, all remaining shoes have been cut to the bone, for quick disposal at wholesale prices. Everything must be sold to the bare walls in the few days left. Men's, Women's, Children's Shoes, Rubbers, House Slippers, etc., at give-away prices! Buy for many months to come, the savings are amazing. This great sale is in preparation of the opening of the modern, new and beautiful R & S Shoe Store soon to open at 104 First Street. The big news will be announced in the Dixon Evening Telegraph. So hurry down to the R & S and share in these tremendous values.

Dukes Host to Sterling; Light Area Slate

Dixon Seeks To Make It 3 Straight Teams Meet in Important Battle In NC Conference

Will the string hold out? That's the question that confronts the Dixon Dukes as they entertain the old rival, Sterling, Friday night in an important North Central Illinois conference game.

In two games to date, the Dukes have won both, beating the Warriors 50-48 in a non-conference game, and 64-59 in the Sterling tournament.

In the first meeting, Dixon took a 27-20 lead at halftime, but lost it as Sterling came back to tie it, 34-34, at the end of the third period. Sterling gained a two point edge with less than three minutes to play, but Dixon came back to win by two points.

In the second game, Sterling took an 18-15 lead at the end of the first period and was leading 33-32 at halftime. The Dukes took the lead late in the third period, and though never able to do much about stretching it, managed to hold on to it the rest of the way.

Forget 'Nightmare'

The Dukes will be out to regain its stature after having dropped a 'nightmare' to Princeton last week, 64-33. Dixon, therefore needs this victory to get back in the running for the NCIC crown. A loss would make coming back into contention a difficult proposition.

Sterling, meanwhile, must win this one to have any hope for conference consideration. The Warriors have already lost two loop games while winning just one.

No matter how you look at it, it still figures to be a tough game for both teams and a mighty important one.

Hubs at Princeton

Elsewhere in the conference, the Rochelle Hubs, flush from their victory over Ottawa last week, hope to play giant killer this week at Princeton. Once again, the Hubs will be giving up the height advantage and will have to rely upon the sharpshooting of guards Bob Deig and Bill Larson.

Ottawa will seek revenge against DeKalb, which shares the conference lead with Princeton, both with 3-0 records. Like Dixon and Rochelle, Ottawa will be fighting to maintain its hopes in the conference standings. Dixon, Rochelle, Ottawa and Mendota have all won two and lost one.

Trojans vs. Hall

Mendota will be host to Hall Township with the Trojans likewise needing a victory to stay in the running.

Geneseo and Rock Falls get together on the Rocket floor with one team destined to win its first loop game. Geneseo has lost three and Rock Falls has dropped four.

Joe DiMaggio Misses Honor By 14 Votes

NEW YORK (AP)—Rabbit Maranville, Bill Dickey and Bill Terry are in baseball's Hall of Fame today but Joe DiMaggio still is on the outside—for at least one more year.

Maranville, the sprightly little shortstop of the 1914 "miracle" Boston Braves who died Jan. 5, led the ticket in the latest elections by the Baseball Writers association. Dickey, all-time Yankee catching great, and Terry, last 400 hitter in the National league, were close behind.

DiMaggio, who retired in 1951, missed by 14 votes. Totals of 252 ballots were cast by 10-year members with 75 per cent or 189 necessary for election.

Plaques will be dedicated to Maranville, Dickey and Terry at the Cooperstown, N. Y., Hall of Fame museum in August when the Yankees play Cincinnati in the annual exhibition game at Doubleday field.

Maranville drew 209, Dickey 202 and Terry 195. DiMaggio at 175 and Ted Lyons at 170 barely missed. Then came Dazzy Vance, ex-Brooklyn pitching ace, 165 and Gabby Hartnett, former Chicago catcher-manager with 151 votes.

Dickey, a .313 hitter in his playing days, hit a total of 202 homers, a record for catchers in the American league. Since 1949, he has coached the Yanks under Casey Stengel.

Terry played first base for the New York Giants, 1923-36, and managed the club, 1932-41. He now runs an auto agency in Jacksonville, Fla.

Sox Clean House

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today launched a $150,000 painting and refurbishing program at Comiskey Park, including more powerful arc lights and television.

Large screen television sets will be installed at 12 permanent concession stands in the park, so fans won't miss much action while getting hot dogs or beverages.

Amboy, Shabbona Advance In Grade School Tourney

LEE CENTER (Special)—Amboy and Shabbona advanced to the semi-final round of the Indian Trails tournament last night by eliminating Pawpaw and Ashton to wind up action in the first round of the tournament.

Tonight, Lee Center meets Compton in the first game at 7 p.m. and Amboy will take on Shabbona in the nightcap of the semi-final round. Finals will be played Saturday night after a consolation game for third place.

Both games were settled early last night as Shabbona topped Ashton, 44-22, and Amboy stopped Pawpaw, 60-21.

Shabbona raced to a 12-5 first period lead and was ahead, 20-8, at the half. Mullins with 13 points was high for the winners while Kurston and Dean with six points were high for Ashton.

Amboy collected an 11-3 first period lead and went ahead 37-10 at halftime. In the second half, Amboy really got going, scoring 37 points to 11 by Pawpaw. Kuffel was

Prep Leaders Face Stern Challenges Over Weekend

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Stern challenges he ahead for Mohne, Mount Vernon and Ottawa on the downstate Illinois prep basketball program this weekend.

Moline in particular may find trouble in store when the lanky Maroons pay a Saturday visit to Elgin.

Although their record is checkered, the Elgin lads can be mighty tough on occasion as they showed in forcing potent East Rockford to an overtime before losing. Elgin has won 9 of 12 starts.

Moline, its record blotted only by a loss to an Iowa team, will go after its 13th triumph against Keokuk on Friday before journeying eastward.

The Mount Vernon Rams have a big edge on paper but aren't taking anything for granted about their date Friday at Marion. The Wildcats, an always dangerous club, passed the 80-point mark in two of their last three outings. They have beaten 10 foes and been beaten by 7, including Mount Vernon.

Fairly stiff tests await Ottawa on Friday from DeKalb and on Saturday from West Aurora.

Some other clubs that could run into difficulty are East Rockford, which faces hardy Barrington Saturday after a bout with Joliet; St. Teresa of Desatur, booked against Monticello and then Decatur Lakeview; and Princeton, which entertains the Rochelle Hubs on Friday.

The Hubs snapped Ottawa's 13 game triumph skein last week. Top rated LaGrange goes against Glenbard and Peoria Manual, clubs that have been defeated as often or oftener than they have won.

In the southwestern section, Edwardsville seeks to build its win total to 15 at the expense of Wood River and Roxana. The powerful Tigers have been tipped only by Quincy, in a double overtime, and Pinckneyville.

Quincy rules a heavy favorite over Mattoon Saturday. Litchfield, Peoria Woodruff and Centralia all appear too strong for weekend opposition.

Pinckneyville, in the midst of a 10-day layoff, doesn't resume hostilities until next Tuesday.

Nardico Loses TKO Slugfest To Unknown

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Charley Norkus, unranked and underrated, whipped Danny Nardico, a top contender for the light heavyweight title, Wednesday night in one of the bloodiest bouts ever staged in south Florida. There were eight knockdowns.

The Bayonne, N. J., heavyweight battered Nardico with smashing rights and slammed him to the canvas six times before referee Jimmy Peertless stopped the fight at 2:15 of the ninth, giving Norkus a technical knockout. The non-televized fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

But it wasn't a one-sided affair. Both fighters took a lot of punishment and were bleeding freely. Norkus went down twice under Nardico's powerful punches.

Norkus weighed 197 pounds, 15½ more than Nardico, who had been clamoring for a title fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. It was Nardico's 11th defeat in 62 professional fights.

Danny said he wanted to fight Norkus again. "I don't think they should have stopped it," he said.

Norkus admitted he was hurt in the fourth when Nardico caught him with a stiff right.

Packing the kick of a mule in his right, the New Jersey puncher floored Nardico once in the second round, three times in the third and twice more in the ninth.

Nardico, rated No. 4 among the light heavy contenders, rallied in the fourth and floored Norkus. In the seventh, Nardico connected with a one-two series and Norkus was lying on his back at the bell.

After going down twice in the ninth, Nardico was on his feet but defenseless when the referee stopped the slaughter.

Monroe Center Tops Winnebago By 69-60 Score

LEAF RIVER (Special)—Gary Markman sparked the Forreston Cardinals to a 61-52 victory over Leaf River in the opening round of the Route 72 conference tournament last night.

In the second game, Monroe Center squeezed past Winnebago, 69-60.

Tonight, the Stillman Valley and Forreston freshman sophomores met at 7 p.m. while the Byron and Stillman Valley varsity five clash in the nightcap. Tomorrow night, Monroe Center and Pecatonica meet in frosh-soph competition and Forreston and Monroe Center meet in the varsity division. All are semi-final games.

Lead All Way
Forreston took the lead at the outset, but was unable to increase it to more than five points when the first half ended with the Cardinals on top, 27-22.

Then Markman took charge, rattled the nets for seven baskets and a free throw and boosted the Cardinals into a 47-33 lead at the end of the third period. From there on the Cardinals had smooth sailing.

Markman High
Markman finished as high man for the Cardinals with 21 points on nine baskets and three free throws. Dave DeGratt was second with 10 points. Harold Kuntzelman was high for Leaf River with 13 points.

Monroe Center opened up a 10 point gap on Winnebago in the first period and then played the Indians to a standstill for the remaining three periods.

Vern Kruger was high scorer for Monroe Center with 20 points while Bill Blair had 13 points, all on free throws. Willie Murray, with 20 points on nine baskets and 11 free throws, was high for Winnebago.

Wilman, Sylvia Wene Top Qualifiers at Bowling Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia and veteran Joe Wilman of Berwyn, Ill., were the No. 1 finishers as the qualifying for the National Individual Match Game bowling championships ended early today.

For the third time Miss Wene paced the 14 women finalists into today's head-to-head match play by totaling 4,680 for the 24-game route.

Miss Wene added a 780 to her earlier 791 to move past Tess Johns of Cleveland, who had led since the opening day. Mrs. Johns, a southpaw, was 26 pins back in second place with 4,654.

7,336 Total
Miss Wene led the qualifying in 1950 and 1951. She was exempt from qualifying in 1952, as runner-up the previous year.

Wilman, champion in 1945, totaled 7,336 to pace the men for the 36 games. Bespectacled Joe, who moved to the front Tuesday with a meet high six-game 1,345, fired two classy rounds to break a 6,092 deadlock with Pete Carter of Detroit at the 30-game mark.

Wilman had 1153 in his first round Wednesday and finished with 1244. Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., finished with 1225 and 1223, but still was 26 pins behind Wilman with 7310.

Special Upset
In a surprise, Mrs. Shirley Garms of Chicago defeated Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids in their special 24-game match 4492 pins to 4458. Mrs. Ladewig had won all four previous women's tournament titles.

Junie McMahon of Fairlawn, N. J., edged Pete Carter of Detroit, 7309, 7310.

BULLETIN BOARD—Coach Wayne Sturm at Amboy is looking for a football game to fill a vacancy on his schedule. The Clippers are in need of a game either Thursday, Oct. 7 or Friday, Oct. 8. Sturm said a home game is preferred but that Amboy will play away.

Sturm added that Amboy is willing to pay an excellent guarantee to a visiting team.

INCIDENTALLY, AMBOY AND DIXON have severed football relations by mutual agreement of both schools. In general, the Clippers figured the Dixon game too big a hurdle for an opener most years and the Dukes were unable to offer a date later in the season due to conference commitments. As it turned out, the Clippers will also be busy during the season with its new affiliation with the Illowa conference.

LEE COUNTY'S HOPE for a major league ball player, Jack McGrath son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGrath of Amboy, received his discharge from the Army last fall and has been assigned to the Denver Bears of the Western Association by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McGrath, who compiled a 36-3 record while in the army, is now living with his wife in Des Moines, Ia., while attending Drake University.

The 6-1, 190-pound pitcher who has developed a palm ball, played ball for the army in Japan where he teamed with Carl Sawatski of the Cubs and several other major league stars.

McGRATH FORMERLY PITCHED a good deal of sandlot and semi-pro ball around these parts and may be remembered for his occasional bursts of wildness. However, the wildness apparently has been tamed, judging from his army record.

Before going into the army, McGrath pitched for a Pirate farm club in Texas.

THE ROCKFORD JUNIOR ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE has chartered a train for ski enthusiasts for a trip to Iron Mountain on a two-day skiing trip.

The train will leave Rockford at 6 p. m. Friday, Feb. 5 and will arrive at the Michigan resort early Saturday morning. Skiing, skating, tobogganing and snowshoeing are available sports. In the evening, a dance and night skiing are on the docket.

More skiing is planned for Sunday morning after breakfast and then the party will begin the trip home.

SKI TOWS WILL BE AVAILABLE for all classes of skiers as well as six instructors at no extra charge.

Reservations should be mailed to the Junior Association of Commerce, 119 So. Wyman St., Rockford, not later than Jan. 23.

Frank Sely of Furman is currently averaging almost exactly as many points as the average major college team scored the first year the center jump disappeared, 1938. Sely has a 38.1 average while the college average then was 38.2.

Pawpaw Defeats Shabbona, 61-52

EARLVILLE (Special)—Pawpaw's Bulldogs stayed alive in the Little Ten conference tournament last night by beating Shabbona for the third straight time this season, 61-52.

The Bulldogs had a comparatively easy time of it, leading most of the way by 10 points. During the third period, Shabbona managed to narrow the gap to four points, but the Bulldogs bounded back to their eight to 10 point margin and were never in trouble again.

Tonight, the Bulldogs meet Earlville in the second semi-final game. Earlville gained the semi-final position by stopping Rollo, 64-53, in the first game last night. In the first game tonight, favored Waterman takes on Somanuk.

Pawpaw opened with an 11-7 lead at the end of the first period, and moved on out in front by nine points at halftime, 31-22. The Bulldogs had an 11 point lead going into the fourth quarter.

Bob Klatt assumed the scoring honors for the Bulldogs with 18 points while Dean Eich had 14 and John Torman had 12. Jack DeNert was the whole show for Shabbona with 28 points. Hickey, who had scored 33 points against Pawpaw earlier, was held to one basket by Torman who turned in a top defensive game.

Rollo led during the first half against Earlville, but couldn't keep the pace and fell behind in the third period. Once in the lead, Earlville was never headed.

More Atomic Weapons Is Key to Military Budget

Ike Slashes Cost $4 Billion; Shift Emphasis to Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower recommended today a $37,575,000,000 military outlay for the next fiscal year, with a shift in emphasis from foot soldiery to a "full exploitation of air power and modern weapons."

The spending budget he proposed to congress for the Defense department is about four billion dollars less than that estimated for the current year, which ends June 30.

Eisenhower said the budget is based on a "new concept for ... our national security program."

Savings in Manpower

A substantial part of the savings obviously would come in manpower, particularly army manpower. The budget figures reflect an overall reduction of about 8.7 per cent in manpower for all the armed forces. Army personnel would be reduced by 17.3 per cent, and three divisions would be dropped from the present 20.

Against the cutback in strength of the army, in which Eisenhower was a five-star general, there was the President's emphatic advocacy of greater power in the air.

He said the air force, navy and marine corps now have, among them, about 33,000 planes. During the next three years, he said, this will be increased to 40,000, more than half of them jets. Twenty-two per cent of defense expenditures in the new fiscal year would go to airplane procurement.

More Effectiveness

The 1955 fiscal year program, the President wrote, "calls for improving combat effectiveness by the application of new weapons and new techniques, including full realization of our nuclear capabilities, and provides for the rapid and orderly phasing of programs to improve continental defense against possible enemy attack."

He continued: "Last summer I told the American people that 'the Soviets now have the capability of atomic attack upon us, and such capability will increase with the passage of time.' I made this statement shortly after it was established that the Soviet Union had successfully detonated a thermonuclear (hydrogen) device which, if successfully converted into an offensive weapon and it exploded over our American cities, would be capable of effecting unprecedented destruction ...

Agree on Importance

"Our military planners and those of the other nations of the free world agree as to the importance of air power. But air forces must be complemented with land forces, amphibious forces, antisubmarine warfare forces and fighting ships."

As outlined by a Defense Department spokesman, here is the way the budget for the year beginning next July 1 will relate to that policy:

Manpower for the armed services—Now about 3,400,000; will be 3,328,000 by next June 30 and 3,037,000 at the end of June 1955.

Army—Present strength 1½ millions; by next June 30 it will be 1,407,500; at the end of next fiscal year 1,164,000. By mid-1955 the organizational strength will be down to 17 divisions. For the first time, there is no request for authority for the Army to make new contracts for procuring major combat equipment; it will have left over from previous appropriations a total of $4,800,000,000.

Increase Anti-Aircraft

The Army, like the other services, will build up in new weapons.

At present there are 114 anti-aircraft battalions. By the end of this fiscal year there will be about 130. The goal is to increase the anti-aircraft force by more than 50 per cent—with more than one-third of the units using the new Nike guided missile weapon.

Air Force — Present strength 920,000; next June 955,000; a year later 970,000. Present unit strength 110 wings (a wing ranges from 30 heavy bombers to 75 fighters); to be 121 by the end of fiscal year 1955; up to 127 at the end of the following year and to the presently fixed ultimate goal of 137 by the end of the 1957 fiscal year.

Navy—Present manpower 770,000; 740,000 by next June 30; 688,000 a year later. There will be a decrease from a present average of 409 combat ships to 402 by June 30, 1955. The new budget contains funds for a fourth 60,000-ton carrier of the Forrestal class, but not for a third atomic submarine. One of the four 45,000-ton battleships now in the fleet will be withdrawn. The number of large carriers will remain unchanged at 12; the number of carrier air groups of planes will continue at 16.

Cut Marines

Marines—Present strength 250,000; by next June 30, 225,000; end of June 1955, 215,000. Continue present organizational strength of three divisions (a Marine division has about 25,000 men compared with 17,500 for the Army) and three air wings.

In spending, here is what the armed forces will spend in the present year and the estimate for the next fiscal year:

Army, $14,200,000,000 this year, $10,198,000,000 next year; Navy, $11,300,000,000 this year, $10,493,000,000 next year; Air Force $15,600,000,000 this year, $16,209,000,000 next.

Couple Abused Adopted Girl, Face Charges

CHICAGO (AP) — Cruelty charges have been filed against the parents of a 4-year-old adopted daughter who is recovering from injuries at Augustana Hospital.

Police seized the couple Tuesday after the manager of a nursery school which the child attended noted her condition and called a physician.

The mother, Janet Eade, 27, and the husband, George Eade, 30, were charged Wednesday with cruelty to children and contributing to the dependency of a minor. They were released on $200 bond each pending a Feb. 3 hearing in Domestic Relations Court.

The child, Mary Jean, was reported in fair condition at the hospital. She is being treated for a broken nose, blackened eyes and severe bruises.

Police said the mother told of knocking the child across the room Sunday when the daughter pulled at her apron. The husband also admitted slapping and kicking the girl when she disturbed him, police said.

Probe Crash Landing of Big Airliner

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — American Airlines and the Civil Aeronautics Administration opened investigations today in the crash landing of a Convair twin engine airliner that caused injury to six persons.

The liner belly landed in a swampy field five minutes after takeoff from Buffalo Airport Wednesday, skidded an eighth of a mile, plunged through trees and brush and lost a wing.

None of the 24 aboard was killed or seriously hurt. Five of the injured were hospitalized.

The airline said the left engine failed shortly after takeoff.

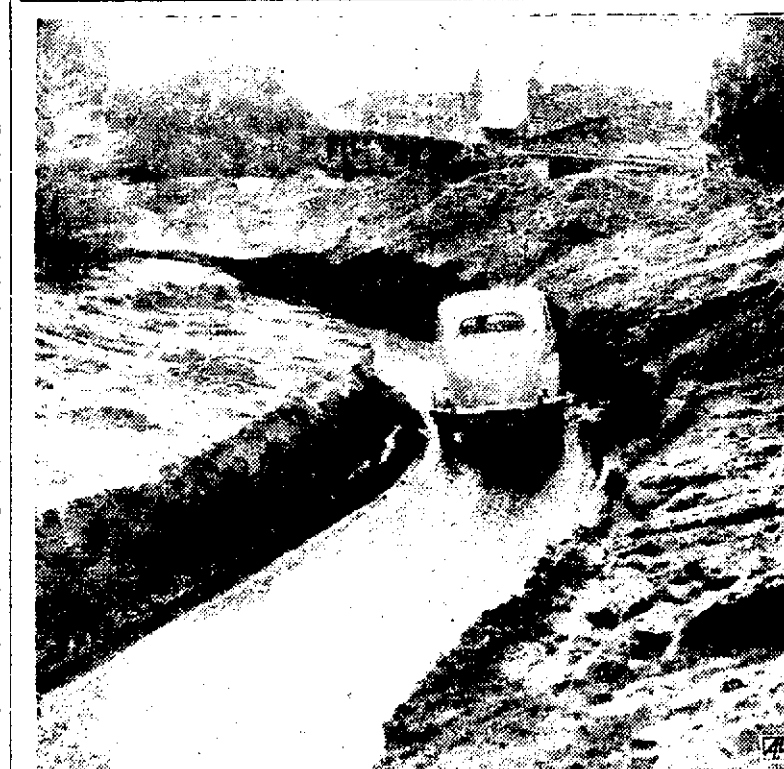

The 21 passengers and three crew members walked from the scene.

SPY TO DIE

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean editor Chung Kook Gun, 38, convicted as a Communist spy, will be executed publicly by an army firing squad Saturday, the defense ministry announced today.

MAY LOSE PILOT'S LICENSE—Suspension of Arthur Godfrey's airplane pilot's license was recommended by the Civil Aeronautics Administration (Jan. 20) in New York. The recommendation went to the civil aeronautics board in Washington for action to suspend the television star's license for any period the CAB "may deem necessary." Godfrey's private plane was involved in a near miss of the control tower at Teterboro, N. J., airport in a takeoff Jan. 7. Godfrey is shown in a jet training plane on May 20, 1950, in Washington. Claims Moline Couple Broke Up Marriage

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A California woman has accused a Moline, Ill., industrialist and his wife of breaking up her marriage and keeping her husband "virtually a prisoner" in their Moline home.

Mrs. Marguerite Loosley, 57, of El Monte, Calif., filed an alienation of affections suit Wednesday in Federal Court against Charles Newhall Stone, 70, a vice president of Deere and Co., farm equipment maker, and his wife, Helen, 73.

Mrs. Loosley married Mrs. Stone's brother, Frederick Loosley, 74, in 1951. The suit said they separated in May, 1952.

The suit charged the defendants "wickedly, intentionally and wantonly" contrived to "overcome the devotion and love of Frederick for his wife" and held Loosley "virtually a prisoner" in the Stone home.

Youth Who Beat Girl Committable

CHICAGO (AP) — A psychiatrist told a criminal court judge Wednesday that the prep school senior who beat his 16-year-old sweetheart "is committable to an institution for the mentally ill."

Dr. William H. Haines, head of the court's behavior clinic, said his examination of James L. Fitzhenry, 18, showed that the youth urgently needs psychiatric attention and should be watched for a possible suicide attempt.

The youth has been indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill the girl, Marlene Bubar, a high school junior. He is free on $10,000 bond.

Frank Ferlic, assistant state's attorney, said Fitzhenry related he planned to knock the girl unconscious with the jack handle, then drive to a garage and end both their lives with carbon monoxide gas.

The attack occurred Jan. 3. The youth was seized by two passers-by who were attracted by the girl's screams.

Ferlic said a high school love affair led to the incident.

Disabled Coal Miners Face Cut In Benefit Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disabled soft coal miners will have the benefits from their welfare fund sharply cut in March.

The fund trustees, headed by United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis, said Wednesday night the $30 monthly maintenance paid disabled miners and $10 monthly benefits to each of their dependents will be eliminated.

Pensions to retired miners, medical aid, artificial limbs and training for the disabled will be continued.

The trustees said the move was made less for economy reasons than to put the responsibility on federal and state relief programs.

Mine worker spokesman said the cuts were not connected with the halving of benefits from the separate anthracite industry welfare fund, announced Tuesday. Both funds are supported by royalties on production. Output of anthracite has been lagging.

Recommend Suspension For Godfrey

NEW YORK (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration has recommended suspension of Arthur Godfrey's pilot's license based on a charge of reckless flying.

Another CAA allegation, that the radio-TV star's medical clearance to fly was not in order, was withdrawn provisionally Wednesday in statements here by the federal bureau and its regional administrator, Oia W. Young.

Has Medical Okay

The CAA said Godfrey had a medical okay, good for two years, dated last Dec. 15 and Young added:

"Apparently, there is nothing wrong with his medical qualifications. He had the certificates but had not properly reported them to Washington nor had he requested that a CAA certificate be issued to him."

The CAA has accused Godfrey of operating his DC3 twin-engine, 21-passenger plane "in a careless manner" while taking off last Jan. 7 from Teterboro, N. J., airport.

Godfrey, who admits he was displeased by takeoff instructions, says his plane was forced close to the control tower by a strong crosswind.

Asks Suspension

The CAA, which enforces regulations by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), has asked the board only to suspend Godfrey's license for "as long as necessary."

Maximum penalty for reckless flying is revocation of a pilot's license or a $1,000 fine.

Godfrey has said he will not appeal a suspension ruling because "I have too much respect for the CAA."

Grateful Priest Deluged With Wires, Letters

PARSONS Kan (AP) — The Rev. Julius Busse, the Catholic priest who said he considers it "a privilege to die of cancer," has received about 2,000 telegrams and letters from 47 states in the last week.

The flood of messages began after he made the remark about his illness in a hospital interview 10 days ago.

The 46-year-old priest says he is grateful his death will not come unexpectedly.

"When we go on a trip we like to have time to prepare for it," he explained. "I am getting ready for my most important journey."

Mercy Hospital attendants say Father Busse seems to enjoy most hearing from men with whom he served as a chaplain. He was wounded twice in the Pacific fighting while serving with the "Wonderful 7th Infantry Division" in World War II.

His doctor says he "has the most remarkable outlook on death I have ever seen."

Accountant Tells Jury Of Swindle

CHICAGO (AP) — George Vasek, who alleges swindled about 300 investors out of almost two million dollars heard a LaSalle St. accountant testify against him Wednesday.

Vasek is on trial in Federal Court on charges of mail fraud and violation of Securities and Exchange Commission regulations.

Irving Rothbart testified he and his family not only lost $100,000 in a Mississippi oil venture but also:

1. The promoter talked him into selling his lucrative financial district accounting business and moving south to manage the oil venture in July 1950.
 2. The manager's residence, described by Vasek as "a beautiful air-conditioned home" turned out to be a shack without plumbing. "The dirtiest place imaginable."
 3. Vasek waved aside his offer of $2,000 toward repairs of $7,000 on the house but then took the check and cashed it.
- The accountant testified that he and members of his family invested $160,000 with Vasek, a resident of suburban Oak Park, and that they eventually settled for a return of $60,000.
- In a settlement in 1950, Rothbart said he got back $24,000 of the $90,000 he invested, his in-laws got $14,788 of $60,000 and a family friend got back $1,200 of $5,000. The remainder covered lawyer's fees, he said.

Road Wear Cited

LAS CRUCES, N.W. (AP) — The Las Cruces Sun-News has taken issue with a contention by the state highway engineer that U.S. Highway 85 has a bad roadbed.

Noting the highway is El Camino Real opened by Friar Rodriguez in 1581, the daily said, "it is possible that over a period of 382 years the continual beat of hooves, pioneer feet and the wear given by tires of all sizes" has damaged the road just a bit.

28 Marines Dead, Missing In Inchon Harbor Disaster

Prisoner Ship Collides With Small Landing Craft

INCHON, Korea (AP) — Twenty-eight U. S. Marines were dead or missing today after a troopship loaded with Chinese war prisoners collided with and capsized a small landing craft.

The toll was surpassed by that of only one other Naval disaster in the Korean theater.

Maj. Gen. William S. Lawton, commanding general of the Korean Communication Zone, said 22 survivors—3rd Division Marines and crewmen—were rescued from the chill waters of Inchon Harbor minutes after the collision between a big Formosa-bound LST (landing ship tank) and an LCM (landing craft, medium). They were not seriously hurt. The Marines were weighted down with heavy equipment.

Illinois Coal Output Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Coal Association estimated Wednesday that Illinois coal production in 1953 was a millions tons less than in the previous year, and blamed the reduction partly on the impact of imported residual oil.

The estimate was released in advance of official production figures. It placed Illinois production at about 44 million tons.

NCA executive vice president Tom Pickett said East Coast utility markets of Illinois coal producers have been taken over by foreign residual oil.

Six Recovered

Six bodies were recovered and 22 others were presumed dead when the search was called off at dusk. The small ship had carried 50 men, Lawton said.

Cops Fined, Ousted for Misconduct

CHICAGO (AP) — Two police officials of suburban Northlake were fined and ousted from the force Wednesday after pleading guilty to charges of malfeasance — official misconduct.

The former police chief, Donald Hull Jr. was fined $250 and Lt. Ernest Weiss was fined $150. Judge Henry L. Buinnan of Criminal Court ordered the fines and removal of the men from office.

Mrs. Olga Hahn of Elmhurst brought about the charges. She said she was arrested for alleged traffic violations after an accident Sept. 22. She and her husband, Edwin, said the policemen took $310 bond in the case, and when the case wasn't brought to trial the cash bond was not returned.

Fake Revolver Fails to Scare Toy Shop Owner

CHICAGO (AP) — Identification of one of her products enabled a toy and gift shop operator to kidnap a would-be robber Wednesday.

Mrs. Rita Wielatz, who operates the shop on the South Side, said a young man entered the shop, pointed a pistol at her and demanded:

"Give me the money in your register or I'll shoot."

Mrs. Wielatz laughed and replied:

"Go ahead and shoot."

Without even trying, the youth ran out.

She had recognized the gun as a toy similar to those sold in the store.

Mt. Morris Has Change in Board

MT. MORRIS—The Mt. Morris elementary board of education has voted to accept the resignation of William Webster from the board, and appointed Milton Dunk to fill the vacancy.

Webster said he felt he could not serve the best interest of the school, because he is working at night, and cannot attend regular meetings. He was secretary of the board, and had served on the board seven years.

The board accepted his resignation with regret.

Dunk is editor of Poultry Tribune. He has lived in Mt. Morris 15 years, and has three children in elementary school.

Robert Urish was elected board secretary.

In other business the elementary and high school boards

1. Received word that the new school band uniforms are expected to arrive within a short time.
2. Voted to send the band, four ensemble groups and eight soloists to the district music contest to be held in Dakota this spring.
3. Recommended that a definite study be made with regard to the exact number of boys and girls who will be in kindergarten during the year 1954-55, and that the building and grounds committee make a thorough study with regard to the availability of sufficient rooms for the year.

Adult Clothing Class Begins In Mt. Morris

Economical Beef Roll-Ups In Easy-to-Prepare Treat

BEEF ROLL-UPS WITH OLIVE SAUCE is made of 1-1/2 cups ground beef and inexpensive meat for good wintertime dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

You'll enjoy this combination of ground beef and biscuits. This recipe comes from friends who live on a farm up the Hudson river. They enjoy good food. Here's evidence.

Beef Roll-Ups (Makes 8 roll-ups)

Filling: One pound lean ground beef, 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Biscuit: One and one half cups sifted flour, 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 3/4 cup water.

Filling: Combine all ingredients. Reserve.

Biscuit: Sift together flour, nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Add water a little at a time to make soft dough. Roll out on lightly floured board to rectangle 12x8 inches. Spread meat filling evenly over dough. Roll up lengthwise, jellyroll fashion. Cut in to eight parts approximately 1 1/2 inches thick. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until browned, about 30 minutes.

Olive Sauce (Serves 8)

One and one-half cups water, 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives.

Place water in top of double boiler. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt and curry powder over surface of water. Beat with a rotary beater until just blended. Cook, stirring constantly, over hot water until mixture thickens. Stir in sliced olives. Serve over Beef Roll-Ups.

Doctor Gets Car

Bottle in River Turns Up After 18-Year Journey

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (P) — John Phillips found a bottle Wednesday which in the past 18 years traveled from the Mississippi River in Tennessee to this island 10 miles off the Rhode Island mainland.

The sealed, airtight bottle contained a note saying Eugene S. Noel of Clayton, Mo., threw it into the Mississippi Jan. 15, 1938.

The note also said Noel would pay the finder $2, so Phillips put the note in the mail Wednesday night.

Doubt Oil Strike Is Important

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (P) — There is doubt that the oil strike of a crew drilling for water in a back yard here Friday is of commercial importance.

Peter Snelten, head of a Glenview well digging firm, said samples of the oil were taken to the Pure Oil Co. laboratory near Crystal Lake, but a laboratory spokesman said Wednesday no such sample had been received.

The laboratory spokesman added: "We get such oil reports periodically, we've had at least a half dozen in the last six or eight years."

Of the Libertyville find, the spokesman said, "You can buy it cheaper at a filling station."

There are no oil wells in this part of Illinois.

Snelten said the crew struck at 186 feet a mixture of water and oil that "was so heavy we had to stop drilling. The equipment was a mess." Drillers had continued after striking a pocket of gas at 135 feet that blew water over the top of the 30-foot derrick and caught fire from an oil heater the workmen used. The well had to be capped to smother the flames before drilling could be resumed.

Snelten said the mixture found at 186 feet was about one third oil. The well was drilled in the yard of a new home built by Michael Ryso, a carpenter. Snelten advised Ryso to cap the well pending oil company tests. Mrs. Ryso told newsmen Wednesday that no oil company representatives have come to investigate as far as she knows.

Reduce Household Budget By Noting Washday Habits

Accurately measuring the amount of water softener needed for her week's wash is the method employed by this thrifty homemaker to reduce household expenses.

By KAY SHERWOOD

What's your pet "string-saving" economy?

Thrifty methods of everyday housework that save nickles and dimes get an attentive ear these days when budgets are not well-padded.

For example, a slight change in my laundering and cleaning habits saves me nearly a dollar a week. It also makes me a better housewife.

That slight change is to measure accurately, by the cup or the spoonful, exactly the amount of detergent, bleach, water conditioner, or cleaner recommended.

When I measured by "eye" I was dumping into the washing machine (automatic) about a cup-and-a-half of detergent. Accurate measure according to the directions proved that 3/4 to one cup was enough to clean clothes.

With our heavy, weekly laundry load, accuracy saves 50 to 60 cents in supplies each week.

Applying the same test to dishwashing showed we were using three times as much detergent as we needed. Reducing the amount saves about 20 to 30 cents a week.

The dishes are also easier to rinse and dry.

Another financially foolish habit is overloading the floor-washing water with cleaner. Cleaning powders don't cost much, I know, but strong concentrations are hard on the floor, make sponge mop heads wear out faster and lift the paint off the woodwork.

A pet thrift of a country friend saves her, she estimates, about three or four dollars a month. Telephone toll calls mount up fast when you have a big family who bring home friends for weekends and holidays.

She keeps a little jar marked "tolls" beside the telephone and about a dollar's worth of change in it. With this reminder at hand, guests are encouraged to make change and pay for their call at once.

Try this thrift tip if your children help clean up the bathtub or sink: A friend of mine discovered that a can of cleanser would last twice as long and do just as effective a job if she punched only two holes in the top instead of five or six.

Reason? The kids had been shaking out half a can every time they cleaned the tub.

'Court Criers'

BOSTON (P) — Young future lawyers are "earning while learning" at the federal Appellate Court of Boston. Law students get preference for jobs in the court library — which is known as "the lawyers' laboratory." The plan permits them to attend law school nights while getting a valuable practical insight into law during the day. Officially, they are "Court criers," but that takes only a few minutes in opening and closing court ceremonies a few days a month.

Senate Votes Storage Funds For A-Weapons

WASHINGTON (P) — A Senate Armed Services subcommittee Wednesday approved an outlay of 11 1/2 million dollars to provide storage for "special weapons" — atomic ones.

The report did not give locations nor other details on the "special weapons storage."

Cugat, Wife Robbed of Jewelry

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Bandleader Xavier Cugat and his voluptuous wife, vocalist Abbe Lane, told police they were kidnaped and robbed of nearly $20,000 in jewelry and cash Wednesday night by a masked gunman who lay in wait for them in Cugat's car.

The couple had just finished a performance at an auto show in Pan Pacific Auditorium and were on their way to a movie. As they rolled slowly out of the parking lot in Cugat's expensive white convertible, the bandit rose up from the back seat. He wore a white handkerchief over his face and held a .45 caliber automatic. Cugat said.

Cugat reported the gunman made them drive to another nearby parking area and there a $9,000 10-karat solitaire and a $2,500 diamond wedding ring was taken from Miss Lane, and a $2,600 wristwatch, $5,000 diamond ring and $150 in cash from the bandleader. The gunman then ordered them out of the car and cautioned them: "Keep walking. Don't look back or I'll drill you."

The car was still on the parking lot when Cugat returned there with police.

Chili Con Carne Is Popular Dish for Parties in Kitchen

CHILI CON CARNE from the nation's southwest is a perennial favorite. Corn sticks and salad are good with it.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Texas and the Southwest may have originated Chili Con Carne but not all areas of the country claim this dish for their own. In some areas chili has been combined with Italian spaghetti for a Spaghetti Chili Meat. In others the chili with or without the beans is a high flavored filling for toasted buttered buns.

Chili recipes vary but all start with browning the ground beef. Don't skimp on the beef in making Chili. Slow blending of flavor is another secret of success.

Most chili recipes call for long cooking. But we have a full flavored quick chili recipe. It combines a pound of hamburger with onion and seasonings and a can each of tomatoes and kidney beans. It's a thick chili perfect for kitchen parties. Later it will be good to take outside with you for cooking over a picnic fire or back yard fire place.

Orange Floating Island Is A Healthful Dessert Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX

With fresh eggs plentiful earlier this year and oranges very abundant, let's open the new Parents' Magazine "Family Cookbook" and get some economy recipes.

The book, written by Blanche M. Stover, gives over 500 family-tested recipes, help on buying and meal planning, and a lot of practical advice on nutrition. It is geared specifically for families with children.

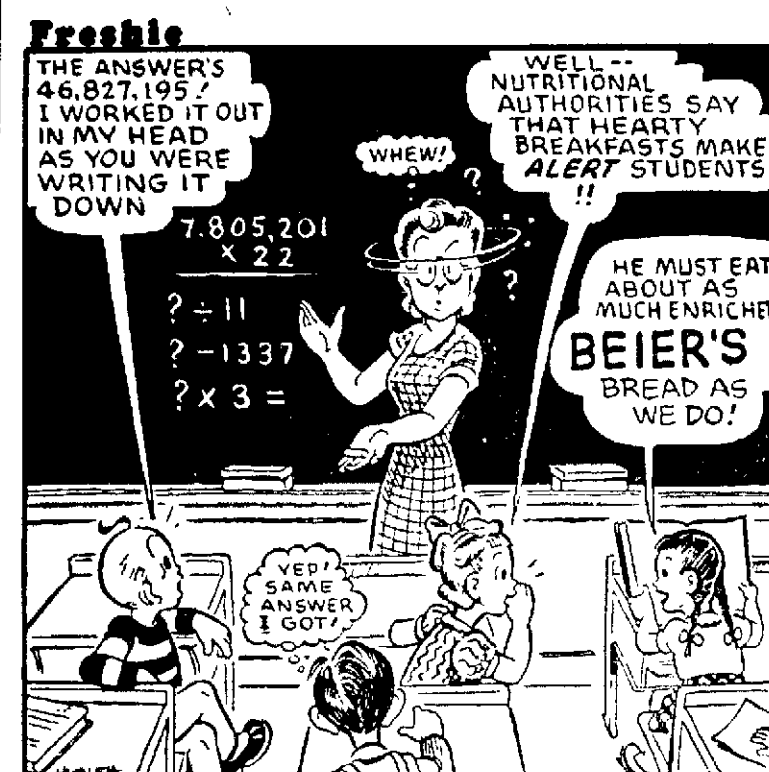

Orange Floating Island
(Makes 6 servings)
One cup milk, 1 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 1/2 cups orange sections, 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar.

Scald milk and 1/2 cup orange juice in top of double boiler over boiling water. Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt; stir in remaining 1/2 cup orange juice, blending well, then stir into hot liquid in double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring, until thick and smooth. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Beat egg yolks.

Blend a little of the hot mixture into egg yolks, then stir gradually into remaining hot mixture. Cook 3 minutes longer, stirring. Remove from heat, stir in orange rind. Cool. Serve chilled pudding over orange sections and top with islands of meringue made with the egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar.

Orange-Apricot Tapioca
Make tapioca cream. Cool slightly, then fold in 1 orange, peeled and sectioned, and 1/2 cup sliced fresh canned, or soaked dried apricots.

SEX QUIZZER—Gisa Terraciano, a Sicilian student, is the Italian counterpart of U. S. Dr. Kinsey, as she surveys Rome's citizens in quest of Italian sex-life patterns. She questions both men and women and her only complaint is that many of the men try to turn the scientific interviews into a "romantic relationship."

Prison Venison

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The 110 inmates of the Dauphin county jail eat more venison than the majority of the place's half million deer hunters. The state game commission turned over five illegally killed deer to Warden John C. Seip. He said the prisoners were having their venison with potatoes and stewed tomatoes.

Whatever remains is made into venisonburgers.

Game commission policy is to turn over illegally killed game to state and county institutions.

COMMONEST IVORY

The ivory in commonest use is value ivory, which is densest in structure and easiest to secure according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Beef, Lamb Featured as 'Good Buys'

By The Associated Press

Good buys in beef and legs of lamb will be featured by many of the country's food stores this week-end.

Many cuts of beef are on the list of specials in numerous stores. Prices will be trimmed by as much as 10 cents a pound.

Leg of lamb prices in some cases will be six cents a pound lower. However, some stores plan to boost lamb prices by two to four cents a pound.

Some stores will hike pork chop prices this weekend, sometimes by 10 to 14 cents a pound. Frying chickens will cost about the same as a week ago.

Price reductions of a penny or two a pound for butter are reported by a number of markets.

Wholesale men also list these as good buys: Beans, carrots, escarole, endive, kale, collard, sweet potatoes and tangerines.

Coffee prices climbed again as roasters added another nickel to their wholesale prices. Chain stores also boosted prices of their own brands.

Accidents Taboo

OMAHA, Neb.—Police Chief Henry Boesen has decreed "no more traffic accidents in Omaha."

He instructed George Winkler, director of communications to out-law the word "accident" in reports on the police radio. Henceforth, traffic mishaps will be called "collisions."

Explained the chief, "An accident is an unforeseen event that is no one's fault, but in his opinion, so-called traffic accidents occur because some one is in the wrong through lack of caution, courtesy or disregard for the law."

Hamburger Can Be Utilized In Wide Variety of Dishes

HAMBURGERS ARE ALL-AMERICA favorites and there are many variations. Two patties with cheese are wonderful eating.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

From New York to San Francisco, Detroit to New Orleans, hamburgers are top favorites with all ages. So let's refresh our knowledge of this all-America subject.

Good hamburger patties start with top quality ground beef. The ready ground beef in a reputable dealer's case generally can be counted on for freshness. Boneless chuck, round neck or flank are excellent although a small amount of suet should be ground with round steak to provide fat for flavor and juiciness.

For thick beef patties have the meat ground only once and use a light touch when making and cooking the patties. Remember, too, ground beef like other meat, is best when given a slow browning and cooking through.

Variations of the hamburger are legion. Simplest is to serve two thinner patties with a slice of cheese, either American or the tangier varieties, between the hot patties. The cheese will melt in contact with the just-off-the-range meat. The cheese slices also may be cut to fit thin patties of uncooked beef and tucked between two patties before cooking.

Serve the hamburger patties topped with a flavorful butter mixture or don't shape the patties and serve the browned hamburger meat in a thick barbecue sauce to be ladled over the toasted buns. These are known as Tavern Burgers in some areas of the country and are a special favorite of the teenage crowd.

Hamburger Toppings

Mix 2 tablespoons butter with one of the following and spread on hot broiled or pan fried hamburger patties before serving: Two tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons blue cheese, 2 tablespoons chopped chives or a combination of 2 tablespoons catsup and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard or chili powder.

Swaps Nation

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Miss Evelyn Fischer, 25, changed her name and nationality at the same time. Born on a British liner four days before it docked in Boston, she was named Carmama in honor of the vessel.

She recently found out she was a British citizen after believing for years that her father's naturalization as an American included her. And she had never liked the name Carmama anyway. So the judge at the naturalization ceremony also legalized the swap of the name Evelyn for Carmama.

Broiling Steak Properly Is Not Done by Accident

By GAYNOR MADDOX

The most famous and easily identified of all steaks is the Porterhouse or T-bone. When cut thick there are only a few of these steaks to each steer. In some markets all of these steaks are called either Porterhouse or T-bone. In some areas steaks with a large amount of tenderloin may be labeled "Porterhouse."

A Porterhouse or T-bone is ideal for a small family if only two or three are to be served. For four or five purchase two steaks. Select only top quality meat and have cut 1 to 2 inches thick.

Because the flank or tail end of the Porterhouse is less tender than the rest of the meat it may be cut off before broiling and served ground or braised at a later date.

It may be broiled and cut off in the kitchen and used in a meat pie at another dinner. Or the flank end may be cut out of the fat edge, ground and fitted back into the outline of the 1 1/2" fastened in place with a metal skewer and broiled and served with the rest of the meat.

Broil the Porterhouse as you do any other steak. Slash the edge of the meat to prevent curling and place on a preheated broiler pan. Rub the broiler rack with a little fat to prevent the meat from sticking. Broil on one side according to the following schedule: turn and season. Broil on the other side, season and serve on a heated platter.

If you desire, top steak with a full flavored sauce. Or serve with a tray containing a bowl of butter creamed with lemon juice and a bit of grated horseradish, or a combination of butter and crumbled blue cheese. Include a pepper mill and a shaker of seasoning salts.

Broiling Schedule for Porterhouse Steak

Thickness	Rare	Med.	Well Done
1 inch	3 mins.	6 mins.	7-8 mins.
1 1/2 in.	9 mins.	10 mins.	12-13 mins.
2 ins.	16 mins.	18 mins.	20-30 mins.

Southern Chicken Hash Is A Glorious Breakfast Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX

A few months ago in Chicago, we had one of the best of breakfast parties. Here are the recipes for those wonderful dishes.

Glorified Southern Chicken Hash (4 to 6 servings)

Two cups diced cooked chicken, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup chicken broth or bouillon, salt and pepper.

Melt butter. Stir in flour. Add chicken broth gradually. Stir constantly until sauce boils. Add the chicken. Add salt and pepper to taste. Place in a buttered casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Serve on browned slices of Canadian-style bacon.

Browned Canadian-Style Bacon

To prepare sliced Canadian-style bacon: place bacon slices in a cold skillet. Do not overcrowd. Cook slowly. Turn to brown evenly.

Hot Brunch Biscuits

One-half cup shortening, 2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2/3 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Combine sifted flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or fork until mixture looks like cornmeal. Make a well in the center. Pour in milk. Use fork or knife to cut and blend milk with other ingredients.

Roll or pat 1/2-inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter or cut into square or diamond shapes. Place on cookie sheet. Brush top with melted butter. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes.

NOTE: It's a good idea to place biscuits on 2 or 3 pie plates and begin baking at 5-minute intervals, so that hot biscuits are ready for second and third servings.

Permanent Tree

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—An unopened package beneath a brown and brittle—yet somehow gay—tree continues to wait for a Christmas that will never come.

Cpl. Richard Lopez wrote in 1950 to save the Christmas tree. "I'm coming home." He was drowned in Korea before he could start the journey. His mother, Mrs. Salvador Lopez, has kept the tree ever since. It now occupies a special room and will continue to stay there because, as Mrs. Lopez says, "He asked me to save his Christmas."

Meter Jackpot

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP)—Robert Cronin and Oswald Shellum, employees of the Superior, Water, Light and Power Co. were removing a meter from an empty home when a grain sample sack rolled out. It contained $400 in bills. When police could not find the owner, the finders won the jackpot.

Not His Dish

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A divorce was granted when a man told the court his wife made him wash the dishes or take her out to dinner. "It was very expensive," he added.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. "Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!"
